The End of an Era at P.H.S.

Mr. White was presented with a plaque by the F.T.A. in appreciation of his service to P.H.S.

The past twenty years has been a period of great change on the P.H.S. campus. Old buildings, familiar to many, have been torn down, and new buildings, which will see large numbers of the future generations, have been built. Throughout these years directing the changes has been a man of impressive stature and manner, yet with a warm, friendly nature. Mr. White has gained the respect and admiration of all and will long be remembered even after his retirement. With gratitude for his long years of service and good wishes for happiness in his future years, we dedicate our 1967 Pasadenian to him.

Year round, day and night shifts are necessary to maintain the miles of halls and nearly one hundred classrooms that make up P.H.S. Mr. Stone and his hard-working custodial crew have cooperated with Mr. Keller in making the campus well-known for its cleanliness and appearance. Pleasing over 2,000 teenage appetites is no small chore either, but the cafeteria ladies have met the challenge with a taste-tempting variety of menus. The million details such as attendance, correspondence, lost and found, textbook fees, and mimeographing are the responsibilities of the office staff. An invaluable aid to teachers and students alike, office staff members are enthusiastic supporters of all school activities.

Sending seniors' transcripts to prospective colleges keeps Mrs. Hutchinson busy in the spring.

The extracurricular German choir was part of the entertainment featured at the Christmas assembly.

Mrs. Edwards' Latin classes spend much time studying the history of ancient Rome.

Language Curriculum Neglects Surfer Slang

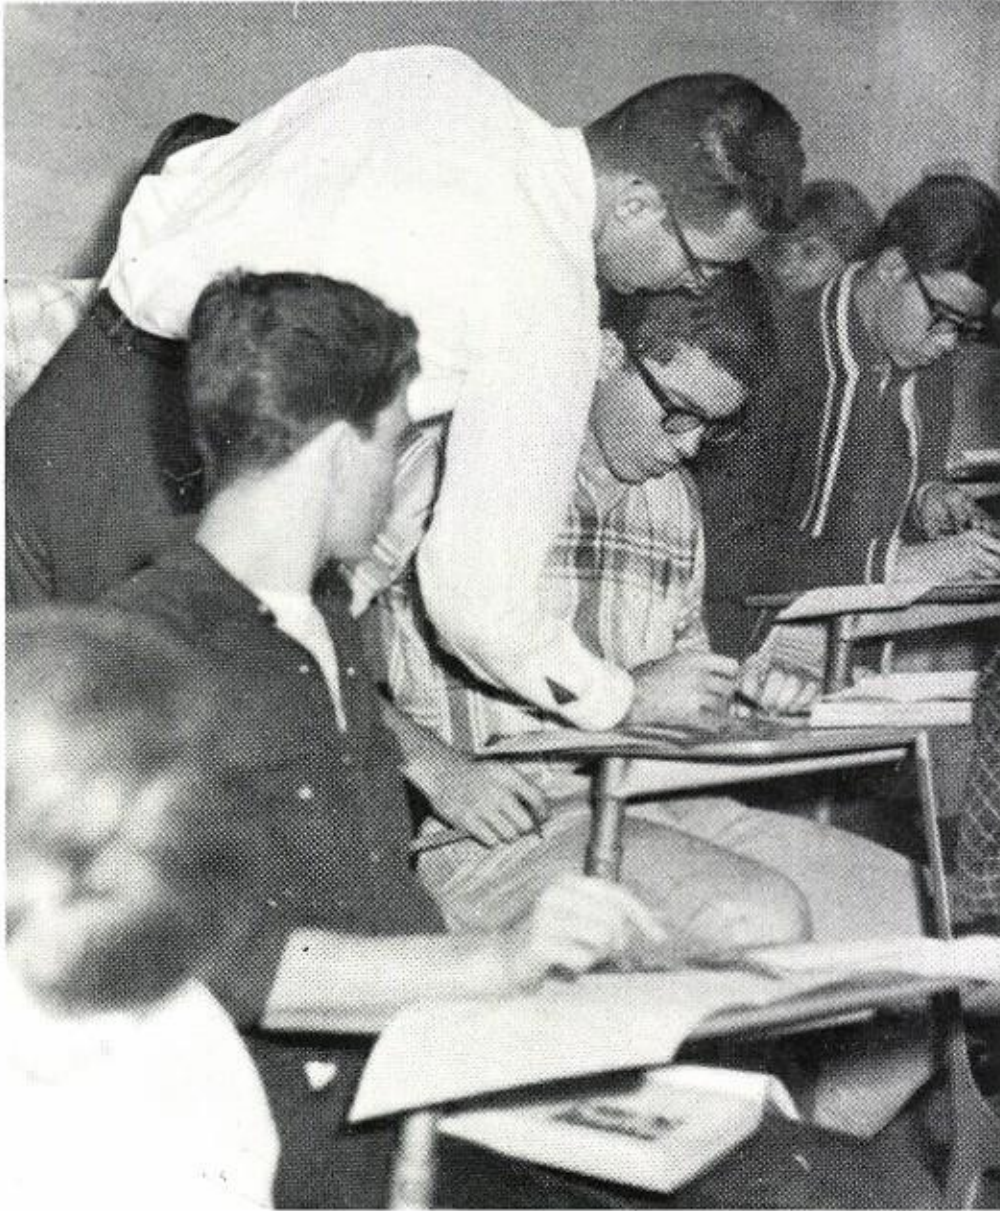

Reading and translating Spanish are daily requisites of Mr. Dial's Spanish classes.

"Did you see that gremmie get locked in while trying to hang ten in the curl?"

Although P.H.S. does not offer a course in surfing lingo, it does offer students an excellent background in Latin, French, Spanish, and German. The combined efforts of the six qualified teachers and the determination of eager students who elect these courses succeed in giving students a thorough knowledge of the language. Various clubs offer a chance to use acquired knowledge outside the classroom. In the summer months, a number of Spanish students spend several weeks in Mexico, learning more of the language and customs of the Spanish-speaking people. To learn the basic fundamentals of one of these languages, enroll at P.H.S., but to translate the beginning sentence, visit the beach.

Cobweb Sweeping

Mr. Higgins assists students working on geography maps.

"It is to America that the whole world turns today, not only with its wrongs, but with its hopes and grievances."

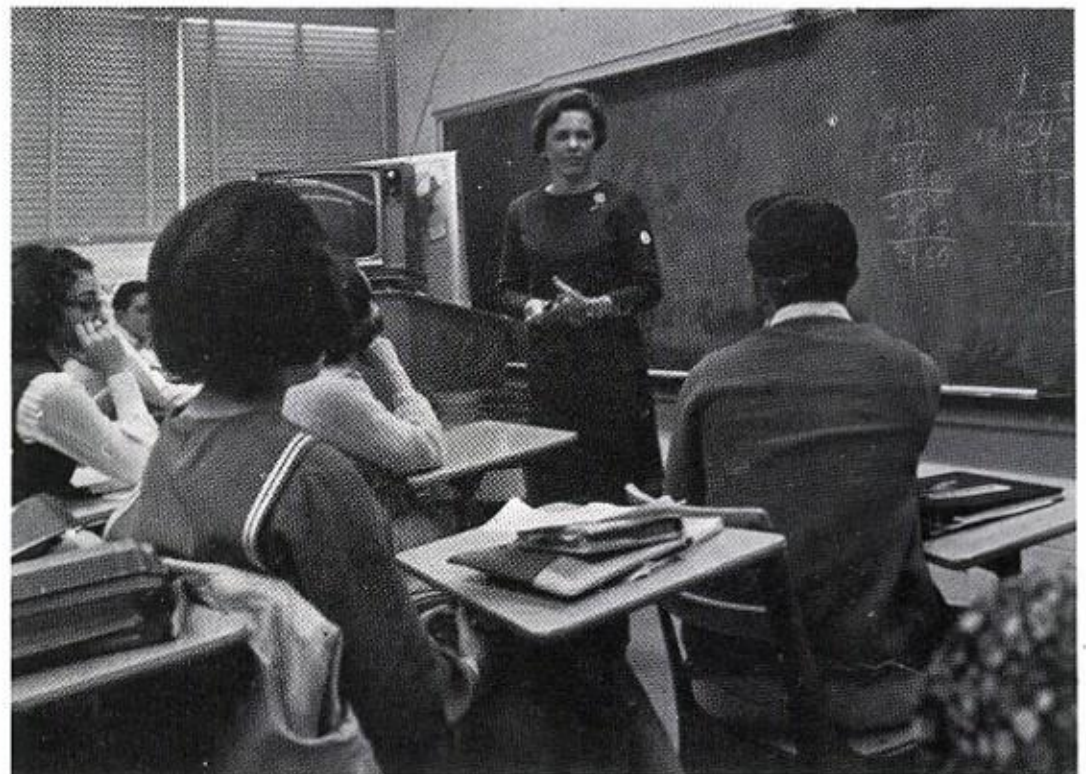

—Woodrow Wilson

In order to merit this trust and confidence placed in our great country, young Americans must train themselves now to be the leaders of tomorrow. At P.H.S., required social studies courses provide the framework for this development.

Every day at Pasadena High students spend an hour of class time studying geography, history of the United States, the world, or Texas, government, economics, or sociology.

P.H.S. students are fortunate in having twenty social studies teachers to sweep the cobwebs from the past, enlighten the present, and add hope to the future.

To encourage students to think for themselves, Miss Wernli questions them regarding the Civil War.

Strengthens Heritage

Glenn Shrode, Sam Sailor, Robert Zavidil, and Phillip Johnson chose to sing songs of Texas cities for a Texas history project.

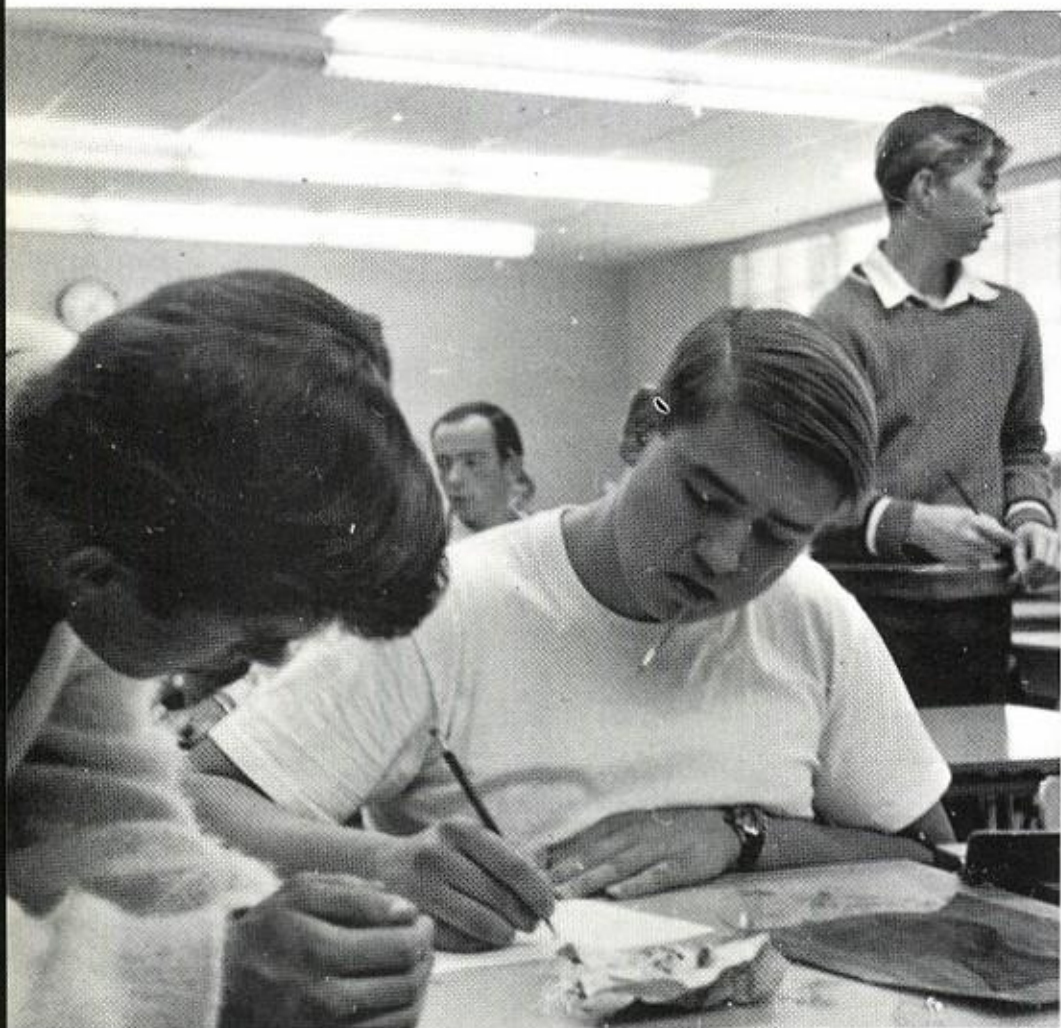

Mr. Massey accepts the sociology research papers he assigned to Larry McElroy and Don Bridges.

Mr. Bains lectures on the governmental structure of the United States.

Students Enjoy Swingers and

With the help of a friend, Greg Hayes puts the finishing touches on a project.

In an age of pop-art, movie-star governors, and the Monkees, it is reassuring to know that P.H.S. students are developing appreciation and understanding of the fine arts. The students enrolled in these courses—art, music, speech or drama—have many opportunities to display their talents.

The artist expresses his feelings in pictures rather than in words. P.H.S. students exhibit their works to the school in a display window, as well as in decorations for special occasions.

In the field of music, there are instrumental and choral branches. The band is a very important part of every football game and is active in concerts. The A Cappella Choir is composed of a selected group of students. These students put in many hours of practice for such concerts as The Messiah. The girls' choir and the mixed choir study music and learn voice control.

The drama department enables students to learn to express themselves more effectively. Besides plays and debates, students strive for perfection in poetry reading, extemporaneous and persuasive speaking, and humorous interpretation.

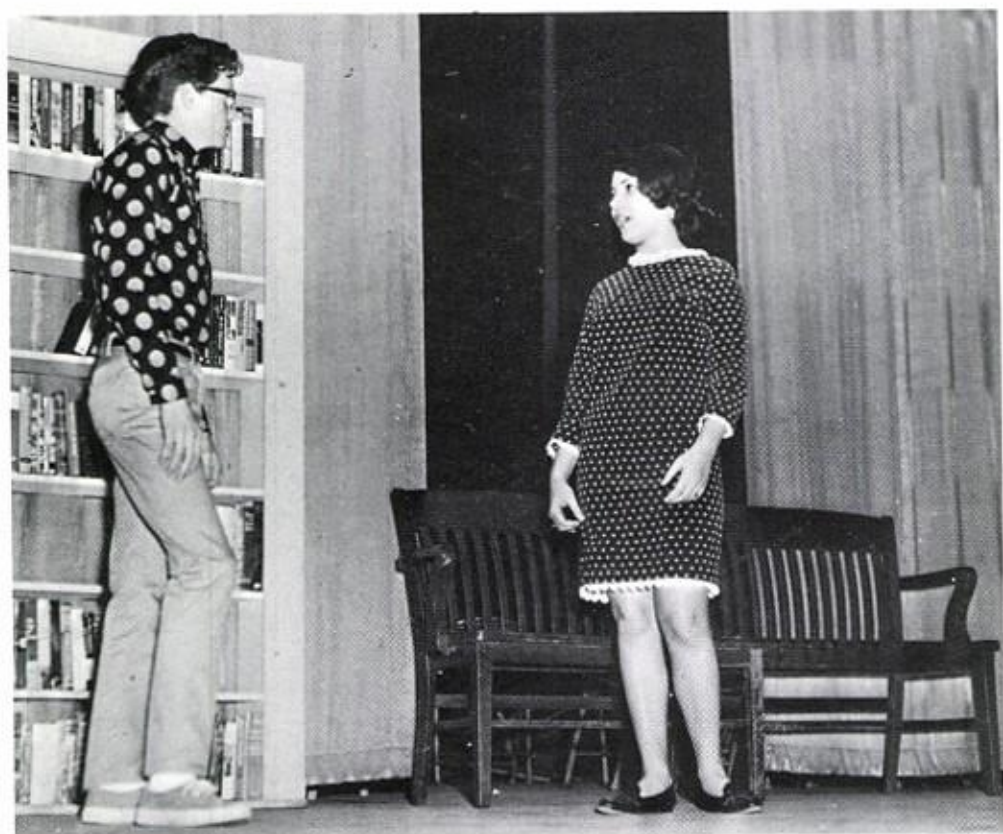

The art of pottery making is mastered by Drew Smith.

Classical Singers

Band members practice for district competition.

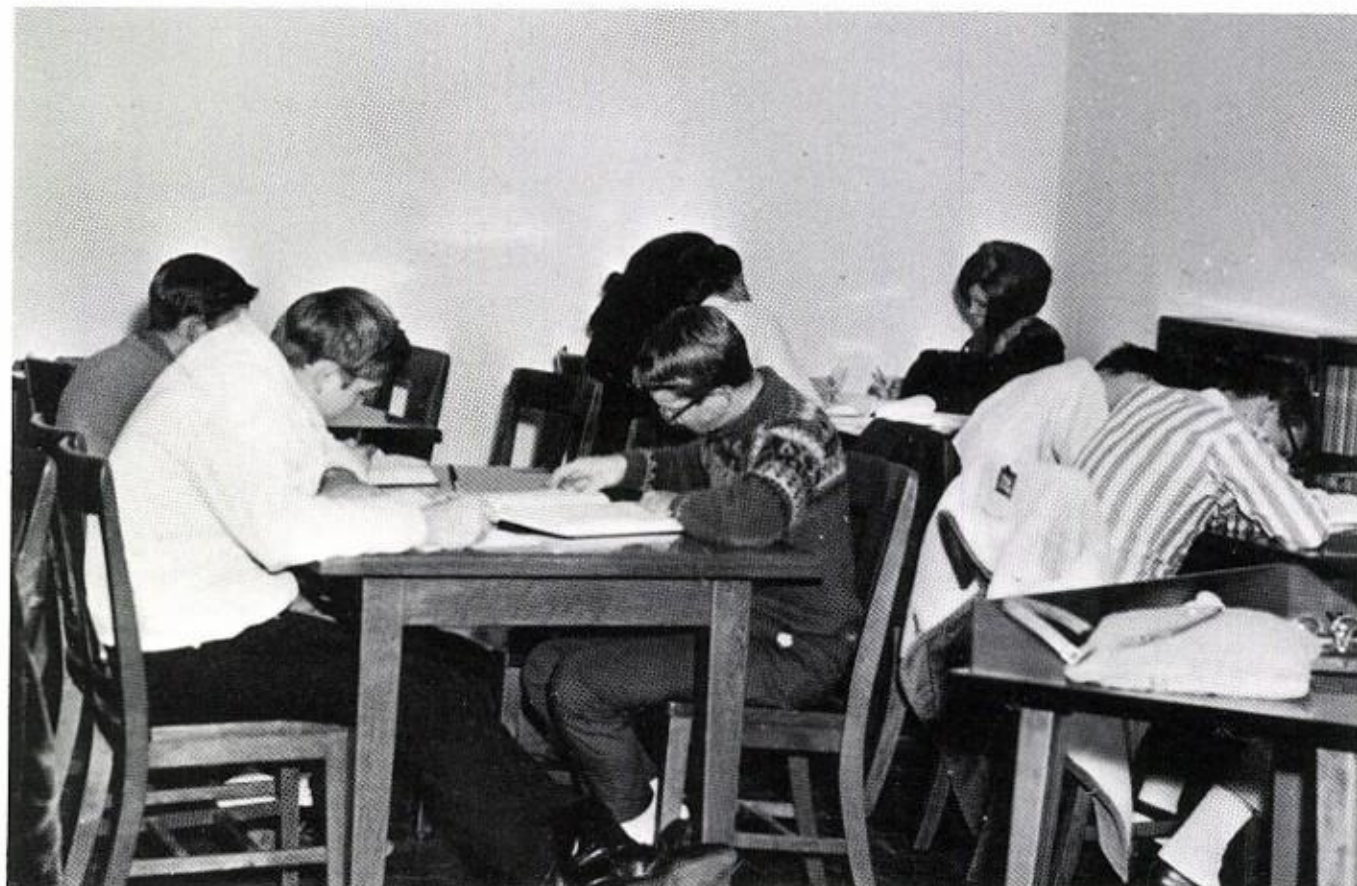

Speech students Gwenda Wood and Jerrell Norman rehearse a play cutting.

The A Cappella Choir under the direction of Mr. Scarcella featured "Deck the Hut With Coconut" at the Christmas assembly.

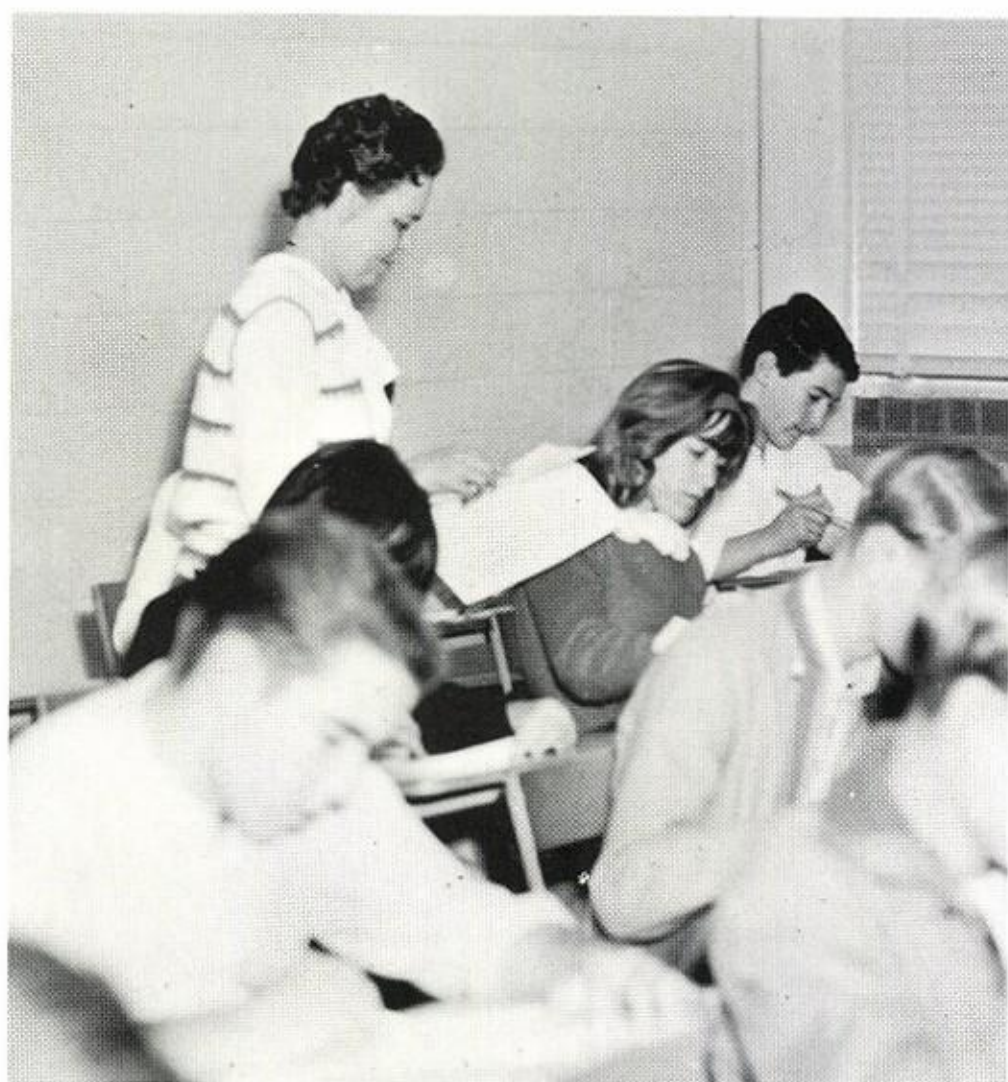

The library affords students a quiet place in which to work on research papers.

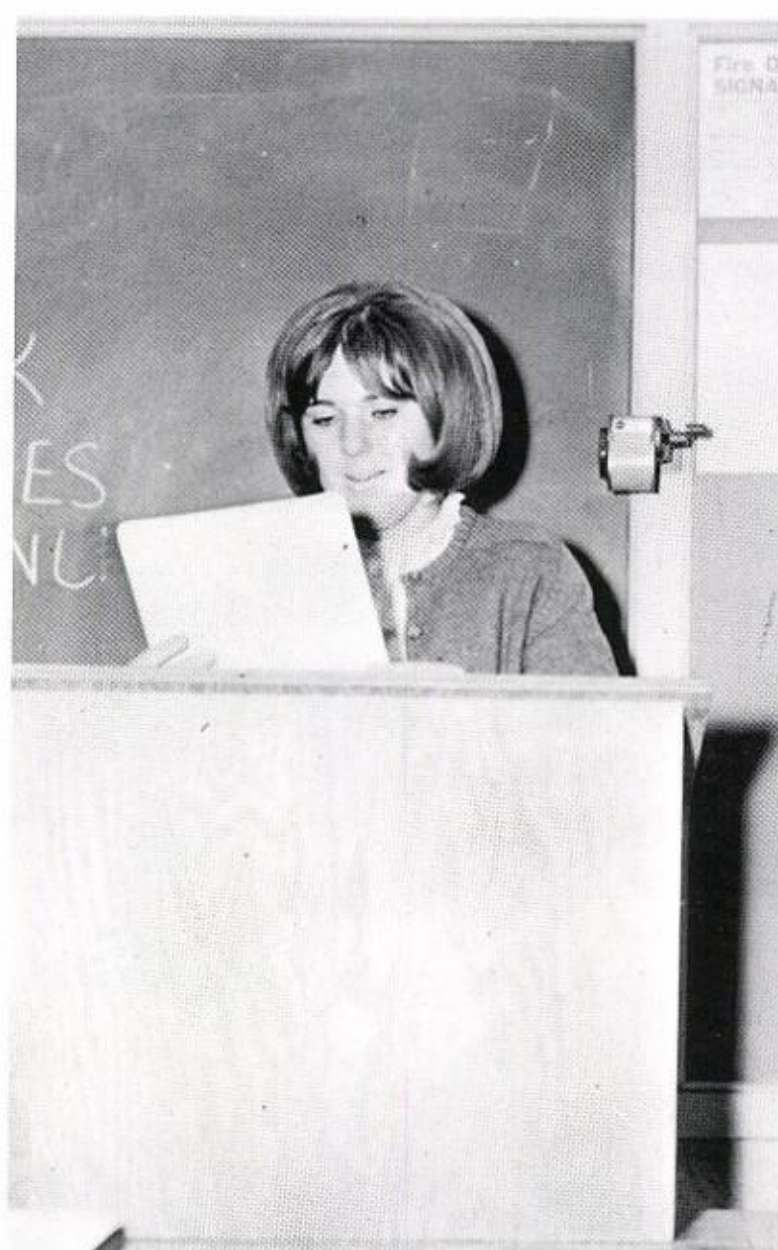

Linguistics Replaces Out-Dated

Examinations test students' knowledge of American literature in Mrs. Vinson's class.

Kathie Brinlee gives an oral book report, a vital part of English curriculum.

The assistance of a teacher such as Mrs. Miller is often vitally important to students.

English Grammar

The English language is the most complex of all languages, which makes conquering its many fine points difficult. But with the receipt of new grammar books, and a new concept in the teaching of English, the 18 teachers in the English Department have again succeeded in their attempt to instruct students. Now emphasis has shifted from the old idea of what is grammatically correct to the newer idea of what is grammatically acceptable which can be more effective. For the first time, sophomore students are being taught speed reading to increase not only the rate at which they read, but also their comprehension and retention abilities. This knowledge will be tested throughout their lives in their daily use of the English language.

The grim look on students' faces reflects the difficulty of linguistics.

Mrs. Sherman lectures to students on the play, Macbeth.

1. The character you would most enjoy have for a neighbor.
2. the place you would most like to visit.
3. the story that develops the most suspense.
4. the story you expect to remember most vividly year from now.
5. The most original plot

Science Asks "Why?"

"But are you sure we add that next, Gary?" asked Frank worriedly.

Gary Glover cautiously touches his frog before making the initial incision.

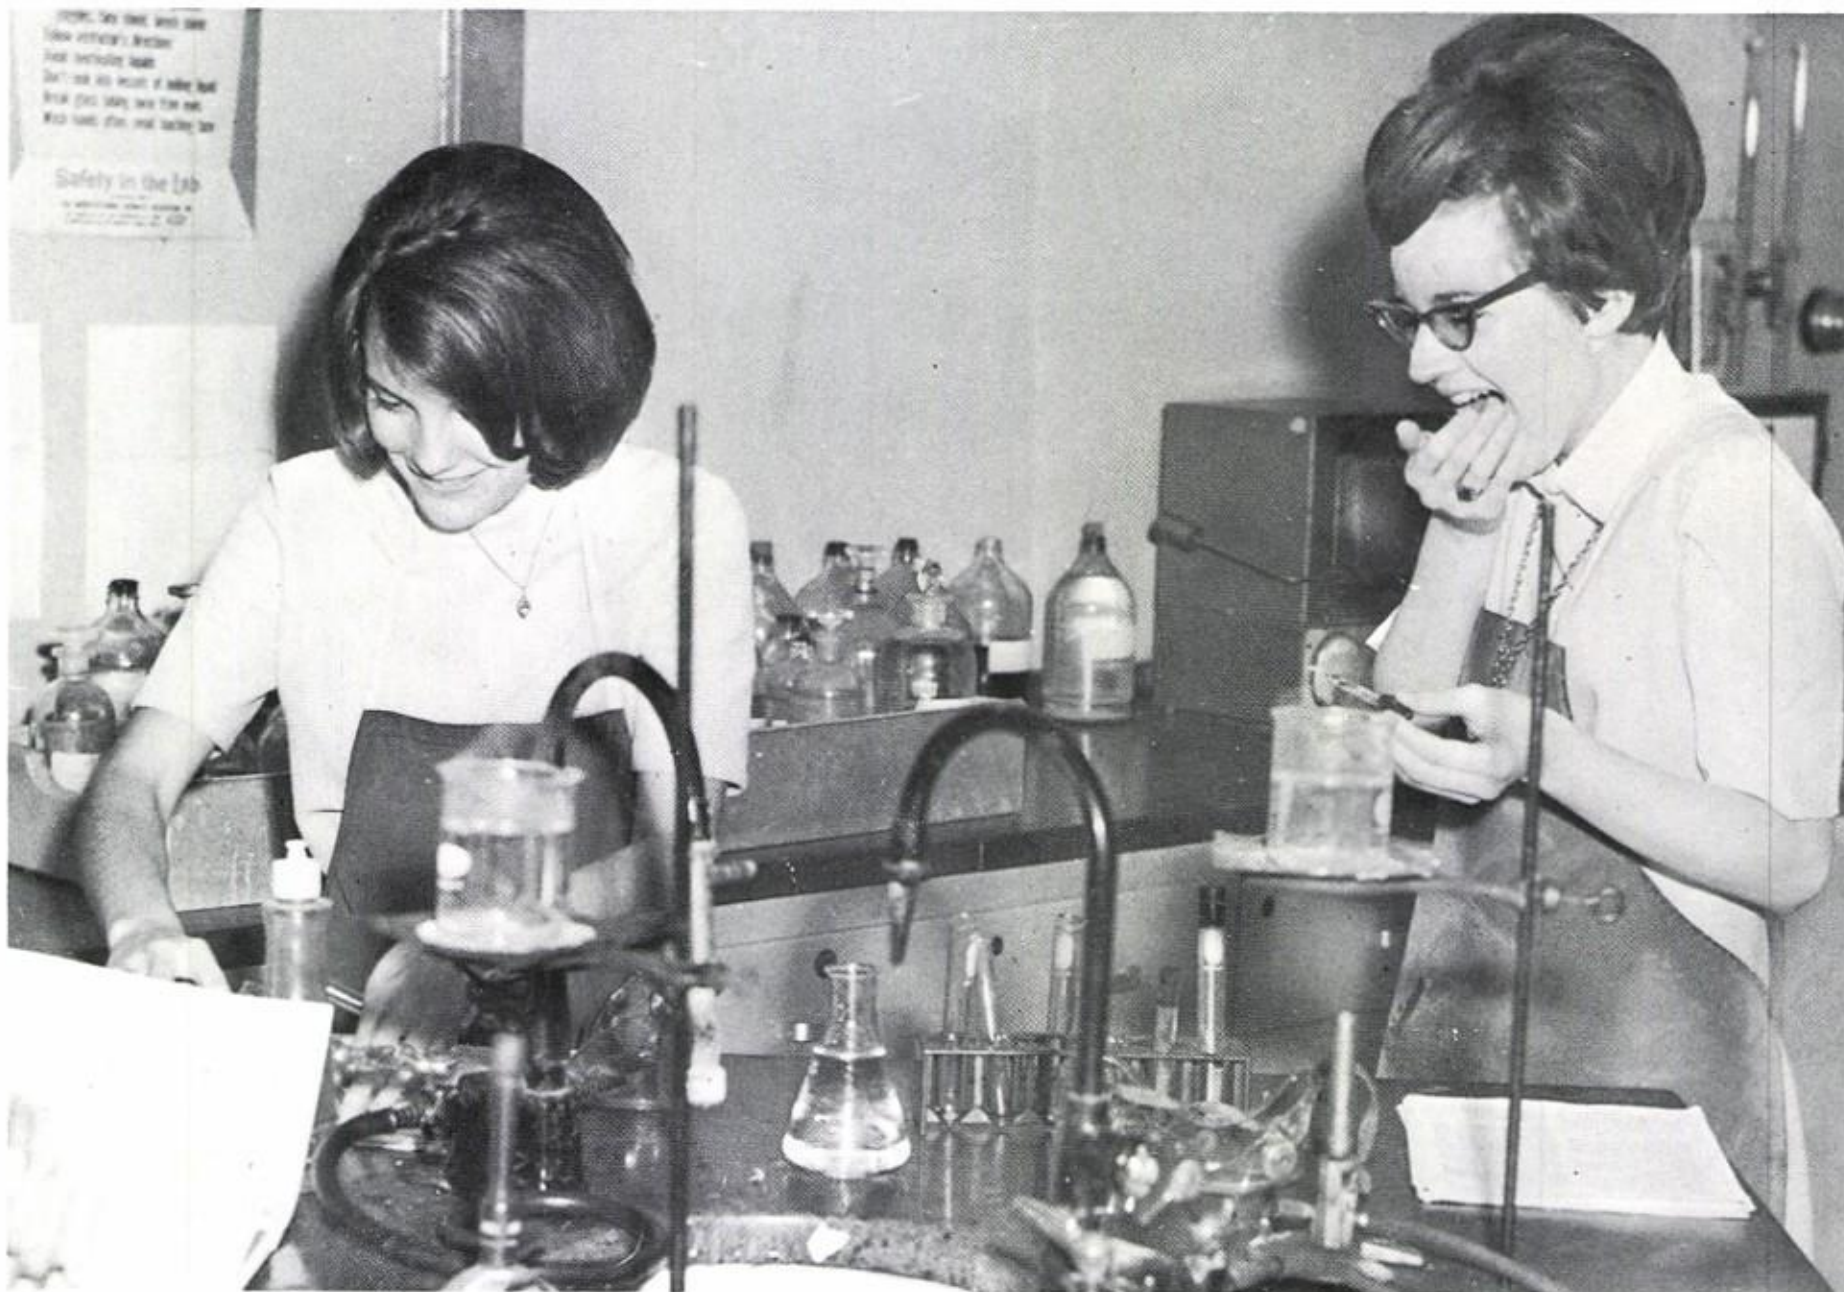

Mr. Landers explains a Polylab to Joyce Wilson, Billie Jo Gale, and Mary Styles in E.C.C.P. Physics.

When the Gemini 7 capsule burned in January, scientists all over the United States asked themselves, "Why?" The most brilliant men searched for the cause of this tragedy, as the world turned to them for an answer. Science students of Pasadena High were among the questioning public. Many are training today to take their place among the scientists who launch the space ships of tomorrow. Perhaps some of them may one day enter outer space.

At any rate, they are getting a good foundation by taking the courses offered at P.H.S. Students receive the fundamentals of science in the General Physical Science course and then branch off into a more specific field, such as biology or chemistry, which may be taken for two years. The physics classes have been expanded to include Physical Science Study Committee Physics and Engineering Curriculum Concepts Program Physics.

E.C.C.P. Physics is a new experimental course offered in only thirty high schools throughout the nation, and P.H.S. is fortunate to be one of these specially selected schools. The excellent laboratory equipment and facilities enable students to perform their own experiments and give them an added advantage in preparation for college.

"Oh no, Wanda! You didn't add the nitro to the glycerine, did you?" Willene asks.

Jo Ann Warren and Dawn DeFrance assist Joan Rice in dissecting a fetal pig in Biology II.

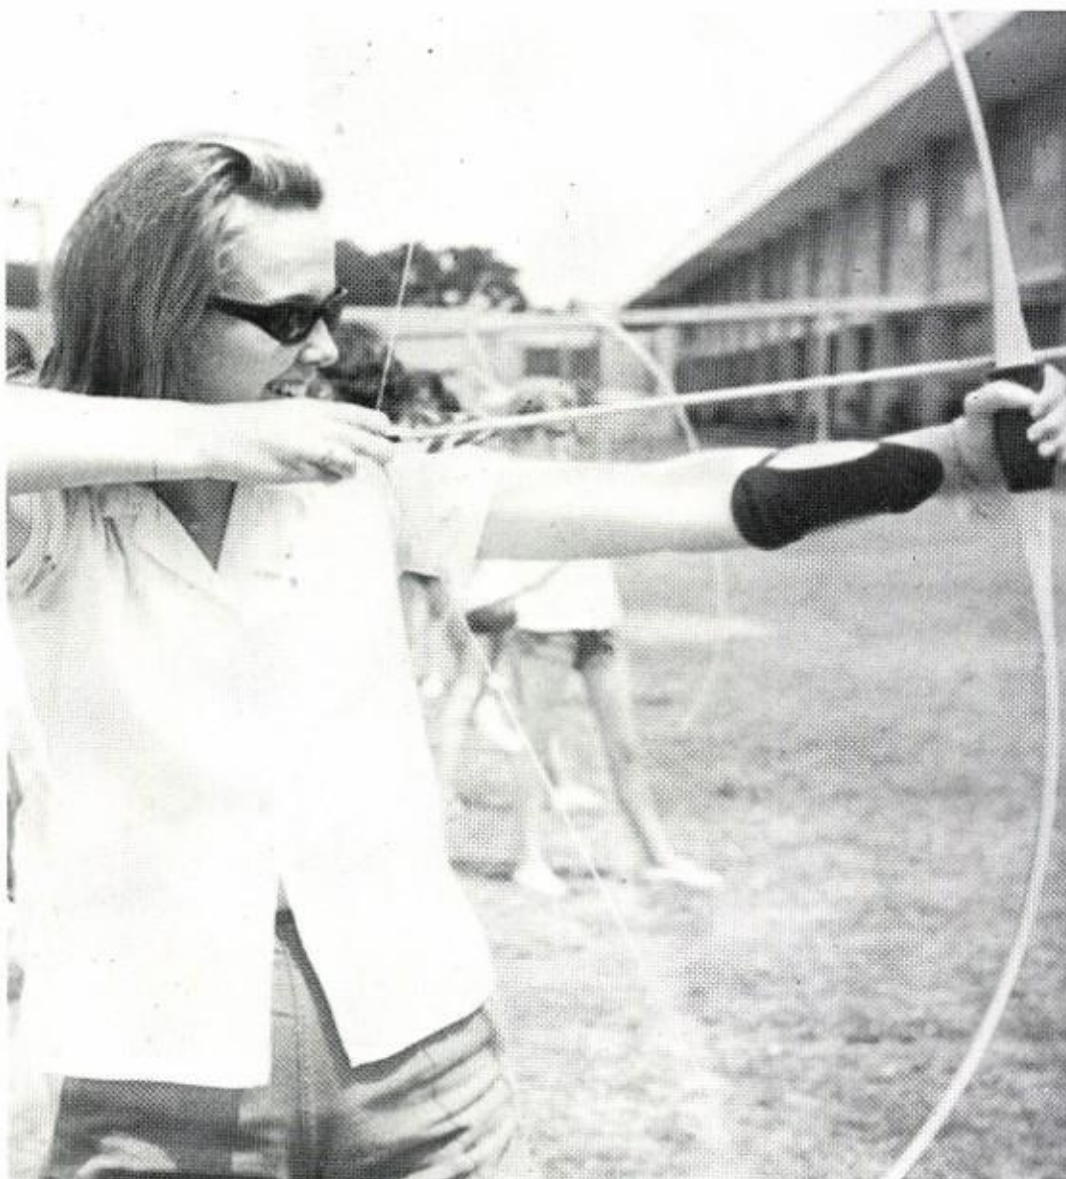

The large field at P.H.S. affords ample space for the P.E. classes.

Exercise + Activity =

Sandra Wilson tries her skill at archery, a new sport offered in P.E.

Aerial tennis provides a new form of recreation in P.E. for Sherry Blakesley.

Anxious teammates watch nervously as their star batter prepares to hit the ball.

Physical Fitness

Which are the most active classes at P.H.S.? The only possible answer to this would be the physical education classes. These hold the record for being the largest and most energetic. Every day over a thousand students spend a class period engaged in some physical activity. Although one six-weeks period is devoted to health education, the remainder is physical exercise. The boys concentrate on football, basketball, softball, volleyball, and gymnastics. The girls' courses are similar, with the substitution of rhythms, ping-pong, and badminton for football. Extracurricular sports such as swimming, golf, and tennis are offered for interested students. P.H.S. is right in step with the President's Council on Physical Fitness due to available facilities and qualified instructors.

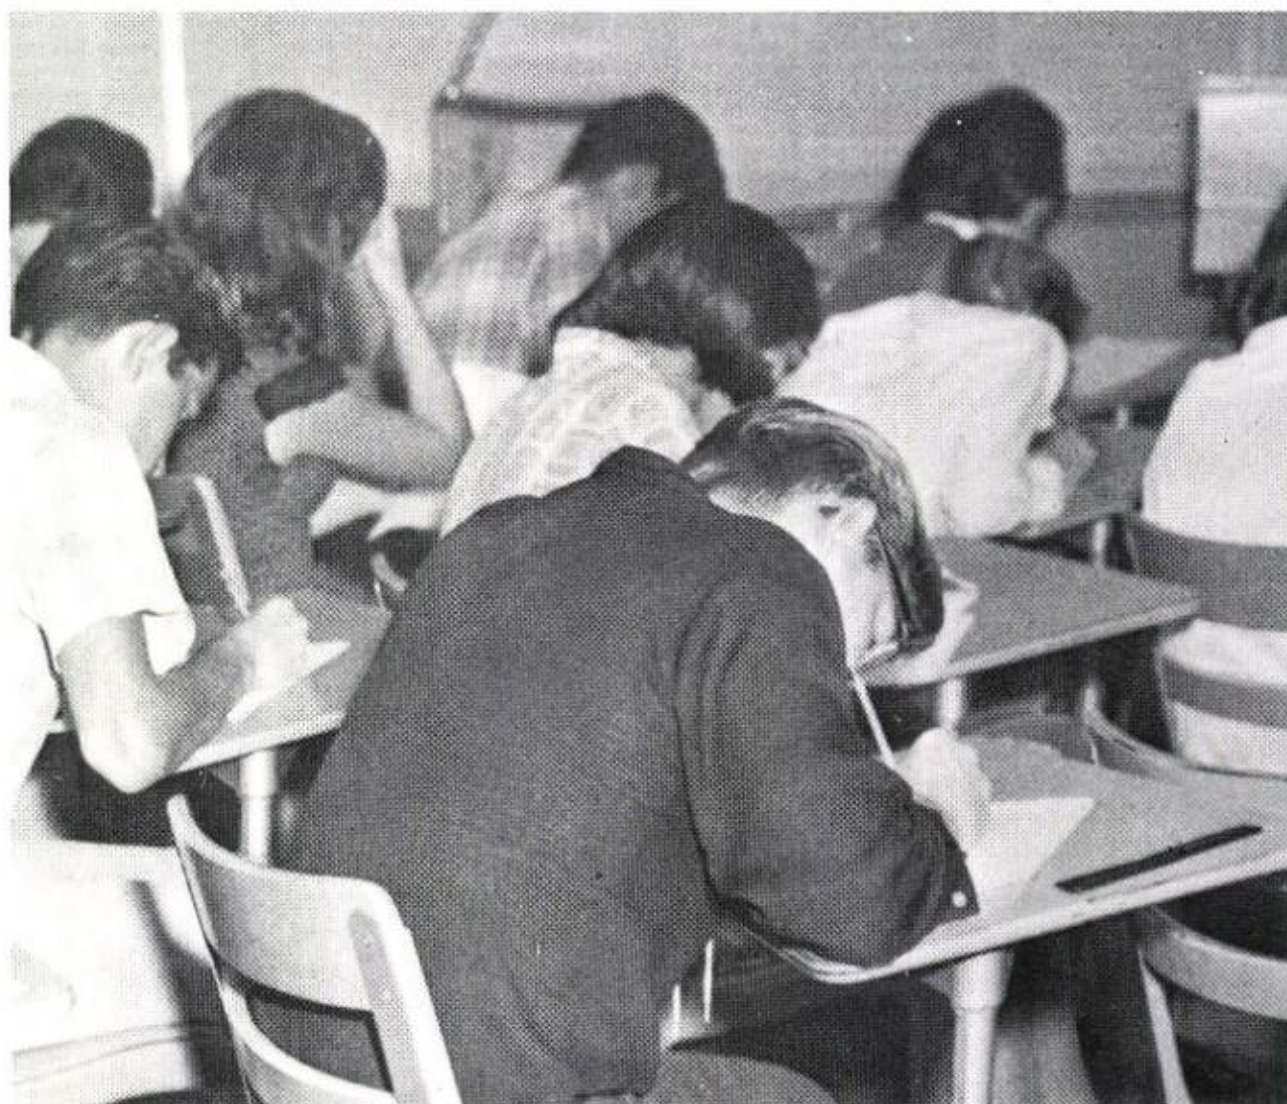

The sport of basketball is part of the physical fitness program.

Math —

Mr. Nickell's students seek his advice in working difficult problems.

Math students take advantage of free time given to work on homework in class.

Basis of Student Problems

What do you think of when you hear the word "math"? Homework, books, teachers, equations, space exploration, engineering? Any number of things might be thought of at the mention of this word. At P.H.S., math students usually think of the course in which they are presently enrolled, whether it is algebra, geometry, trigonometry, analysis, or a business math. These students are preparing themselves today to meet the demands of our modern times. Constant revision of textbooks adds to the tailored qualities of the courses. Regardless of whether a student is a math or business major, he will find that P.H.S. offers the courses in math which he needs.

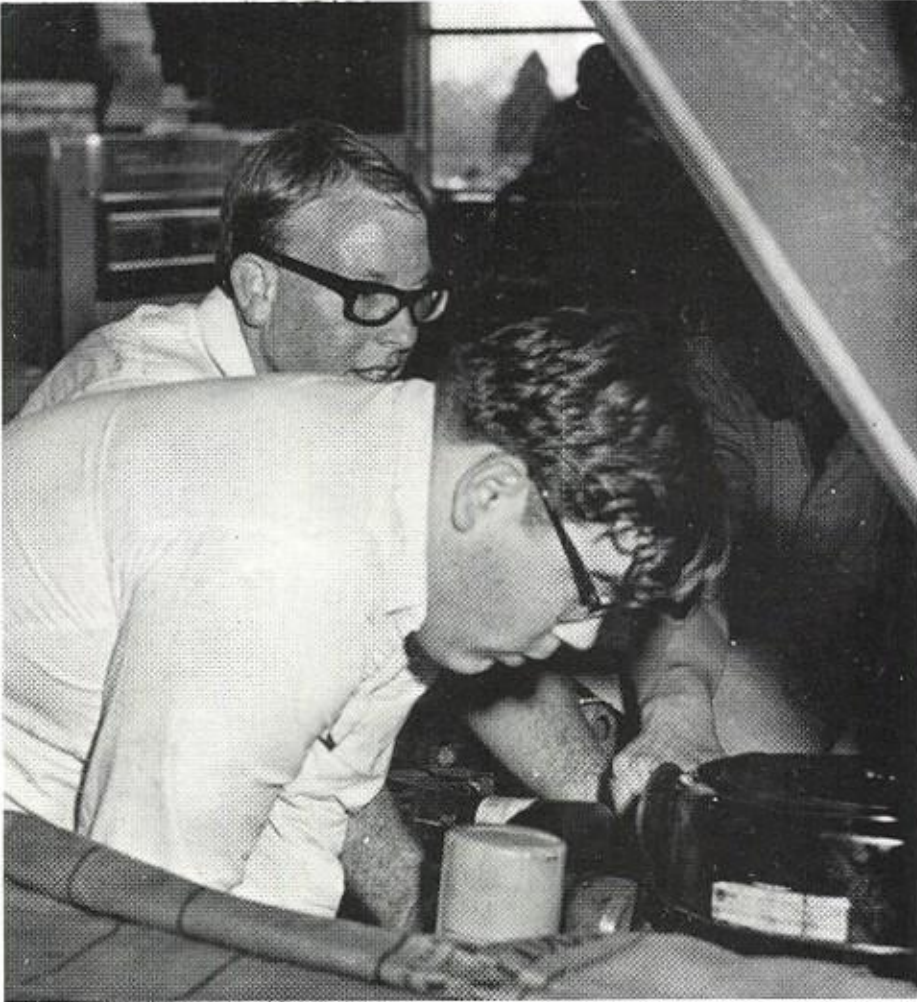

Working homework problems on the board benefits the entire class as well as lessening the burden of the teacher.

Mr. Tannery offers his assistance to students having difficulties in basic math.

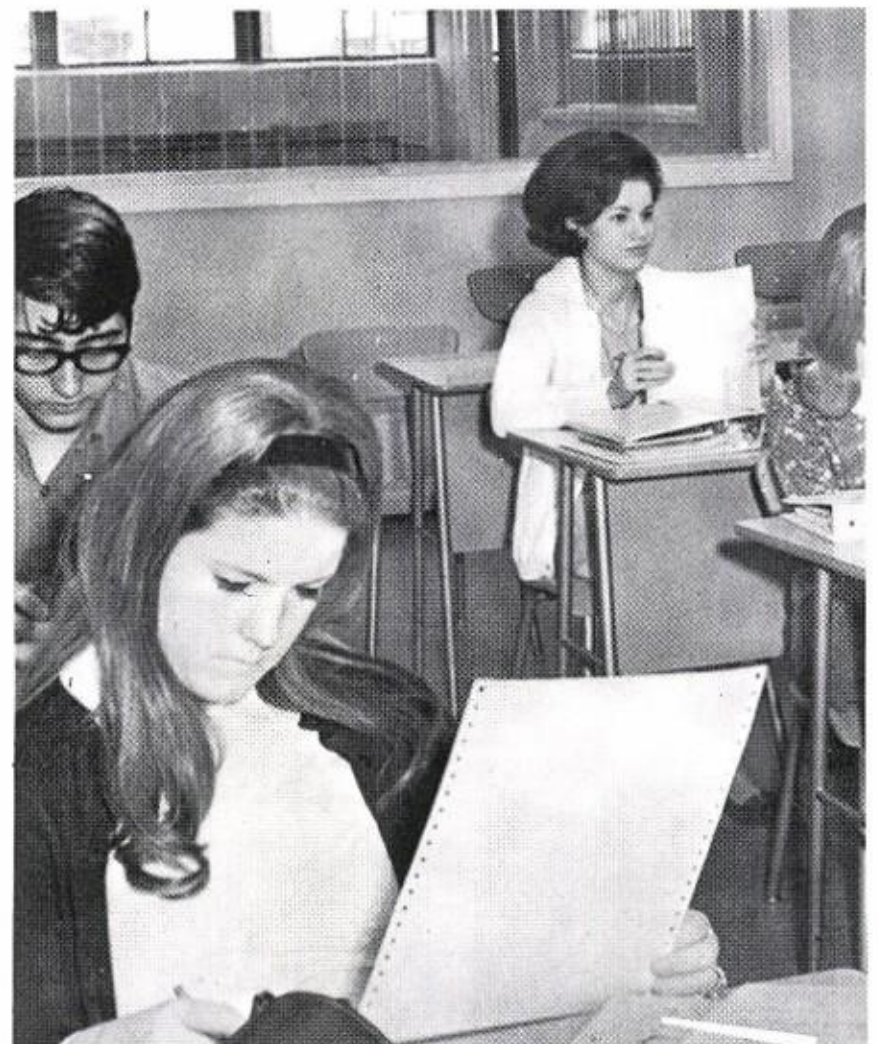

Needed: One Student, One

Ray Brackman and Joe Robertson replace spark plugs as part of an overhaul job in auto mechanics.

The vocational courses demonstrate the most evident expression of the future plans of P.H.S. students. These elective courses play a large part in the careers of those who do not attend college. To many students, they are the only preparatory classes prior to entering the business world. The large variety of these courses—ranging from cosmetology to shorthand to auto-mechanics—offers students a solid foundation on which to build their future lives. Many of these courses are offered only at P.H.S. in the Pasadena School District, making it necessary for Sam Rayburn and South Houston students to attend classes here. P.H.S. is proud of the rapid expansion of the vocational department, the excellent facilities, the ingenuity of teachers and the increased interest of the students.

In the foods lab, Susan Boyd and Debbie Start learn the techniques used in good cooking.

Jennifer Cates thoughtfully searches for the mistake in her calculations.

Tool, and a Little Ingenuity

Mannequins available in the cosmetology department enable Debbie Bray to experiment with new hair styles.

Kerry Bland checks the programming of her board in data processing.

Janet Bockting quickly adds on a comptometer.

Freshmen Off To a Swinging Start

Freshman Class Officers of '67 met the challenge of making their beginning year at P. H. S. an eventful one. With 741 new students to lead, Bobby, Janet, Cindy, Becky, and Melanie did an exceptional job planning interesting activities for their fellow classmates. Among other things, a freshman party sponsored by freshman homeroom teachers, made '66-'67 a swinging year.

Freshmen must face many perplexing problems when they begin a new life at P. H. S. The counselor's job is to see that these students strive to overcome their difficulties and to become a vital part in the growth of the school. To carry on a long-standing tradition at P.H.S. the freshmen wore green and white beanies during Orientation Week. Exes

The newest members of the P.H.S. student body displayed enthusiasm in welcoming ex-students on Homecoming Day. Large posters of the freshman class made the exes feel at home once more.

Many new styles and fashions appeared on the campus with the arrival of spring. Colored textured hose, little girl shoes, and pierced ears are among the many new styles of school wear. The tent dress is the most popular and certain variations in the dress are favored as well.

10-3 Leads United

For the second consecutive year, Miss Wernli's homeroom led the United Fund drive. As a result of cake sales, a car wash, and generous contributions on the behalf of the homeroom students, the homeroom collected $137, more than any other homeroom at Pasadena High. The school sponsored a party in the cafeteria for the winners at the period of their choice. Miss Wernli said the homeroom anticipates winning the drive every year.

First Battle of the Bands

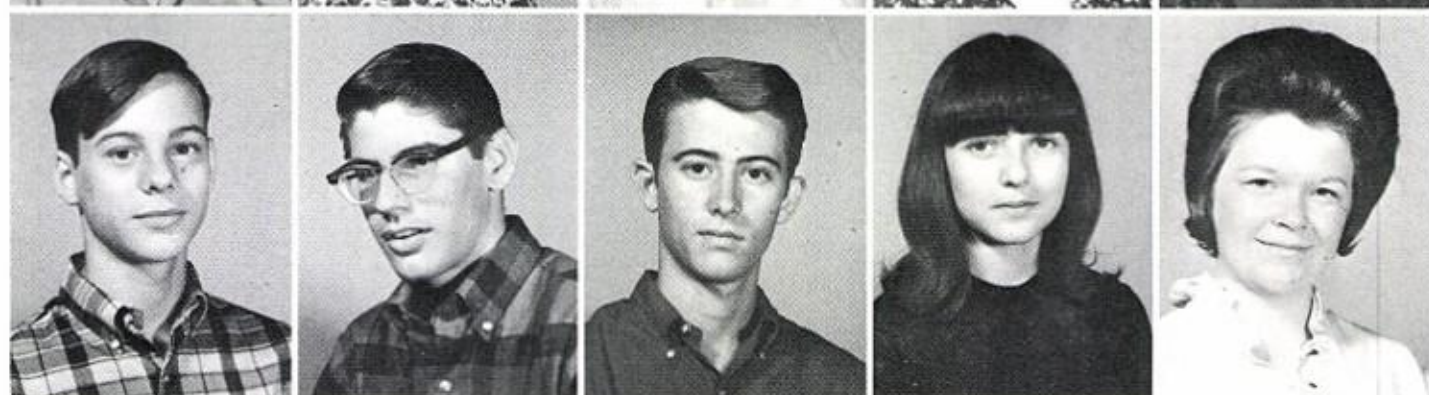

The first annual Battle of the Bands, sponsored by the Performing Arts Club, was held November 22 in the school auditorium. Eight bands participated, each group playing two selections. George Washington and the Cherry Stompers were awarded the winning trophy, which was placed in the Eagle Honor Spot. As a result, Stompers Tim Williams, Tommy Bird, Randy Robinson, and Tom Pickard were often asked to play for campus activities and events.

The Cherry Stompers played for the all-school party in December.

Highlight All-School Party

Winter brought the month of December and December brought the all-school party sponsored by the Sophomore Class. Table tennis, volleyball, and dancing to the swinging sounds of George Washington and the Cherry Stompers were available for those students who attended. The faculty became dismayed at some of the new dances that were displayed, but before the party was over, some of them even attempted to exhibit their own dancing ability. Proceeds from the party increased the Sophomore Class treasury.

Cheerleader Tryouts Prove Trying

Twenty-one couples practiced every day after school for two weeks. On April 11 each couple tried out by presenting a couple yell, and then an individual yell before a panel of unbiased judges. The student body then selected six football cheerleaders and eight basketball cheerleaders from the fourteen finalists.

Mr. Nelson and Mr. Murphy take time out from their schedules to discuss future class plans.

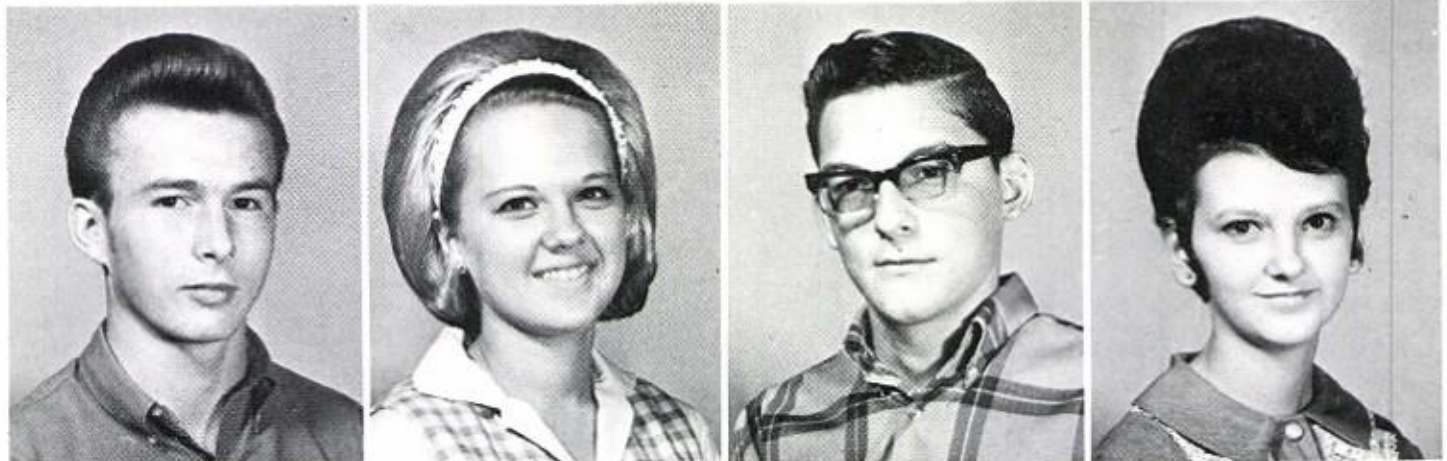

Even with all of the problems and pressures of today, junior classmen can have confidence knowing the remainder of their high school years are in the capable hands of Mr. Bob Tyler, counselor, and Mr. Delbert Nelson and Mr. Glen Murphy, sponsors. These three men help to answer questions and guide students.

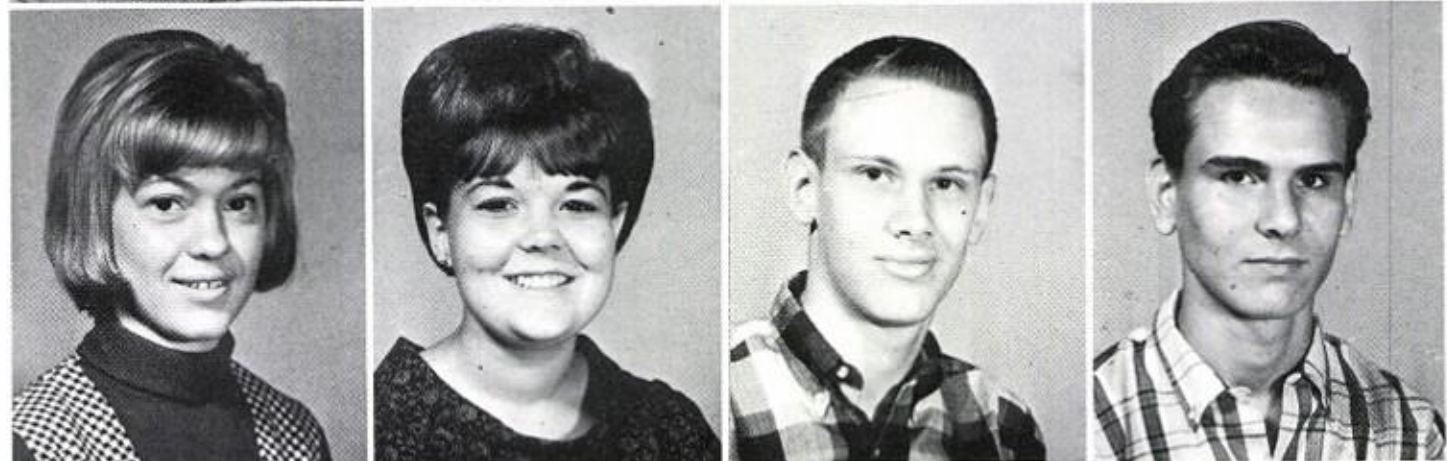

Mr. Tyler goes over assembly plans with class president, Al Henson.

Seven spirited cheerleaders and ten fighting varsity football players are reason enough for any class to be proud. Not only are juniors represented in football, but in every other phase of sports. Students and faculty alike should be proud of the active juniors.

The football players' table was decorated like a huge football field.

Texas University head coach Darrell Royal was in town for the Bluebonnet Bowl.

"Hook 'Em Horns!" would have been an appropriate cheer at the annual football banquet when Darrell Royal, Texas University coach, spoke to the football team, Quarterback Club members, and other Eagle supporters. The popular Southwest Conference personality stressed in his talk the importance of making opportunities instead of waiting for them to come along.

Head Coach Bob Barfield accepted the City Championship Trophy and senior Larry Caudill received the Most Valuable Player award. The Quarterback Club recognized "Del" Delahoussaye for his years of service in that organization.

King Football reigned supreme that December night and not a single "Gig 'Em Aggies" was heard.

Mr. McGaugh welcomes returning students at the first Junior assembly.

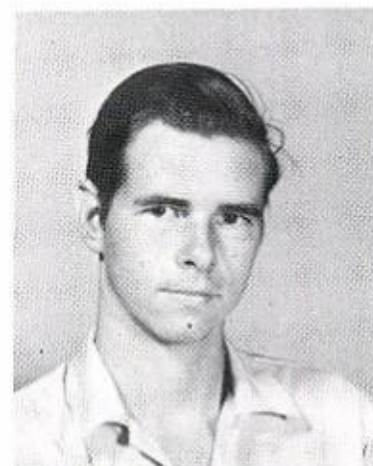

Increased enrollment necessitates split assemblies.

Everyone at P.H.S. looks forward to an assembly. Besides giving students and teachers time out from classes, assemblies provide programs of entertainment and information. At the beginning and ending of each year, assemblies are held for recognizing and rewarding outstanding students for achievements and abilities.

Green Power!

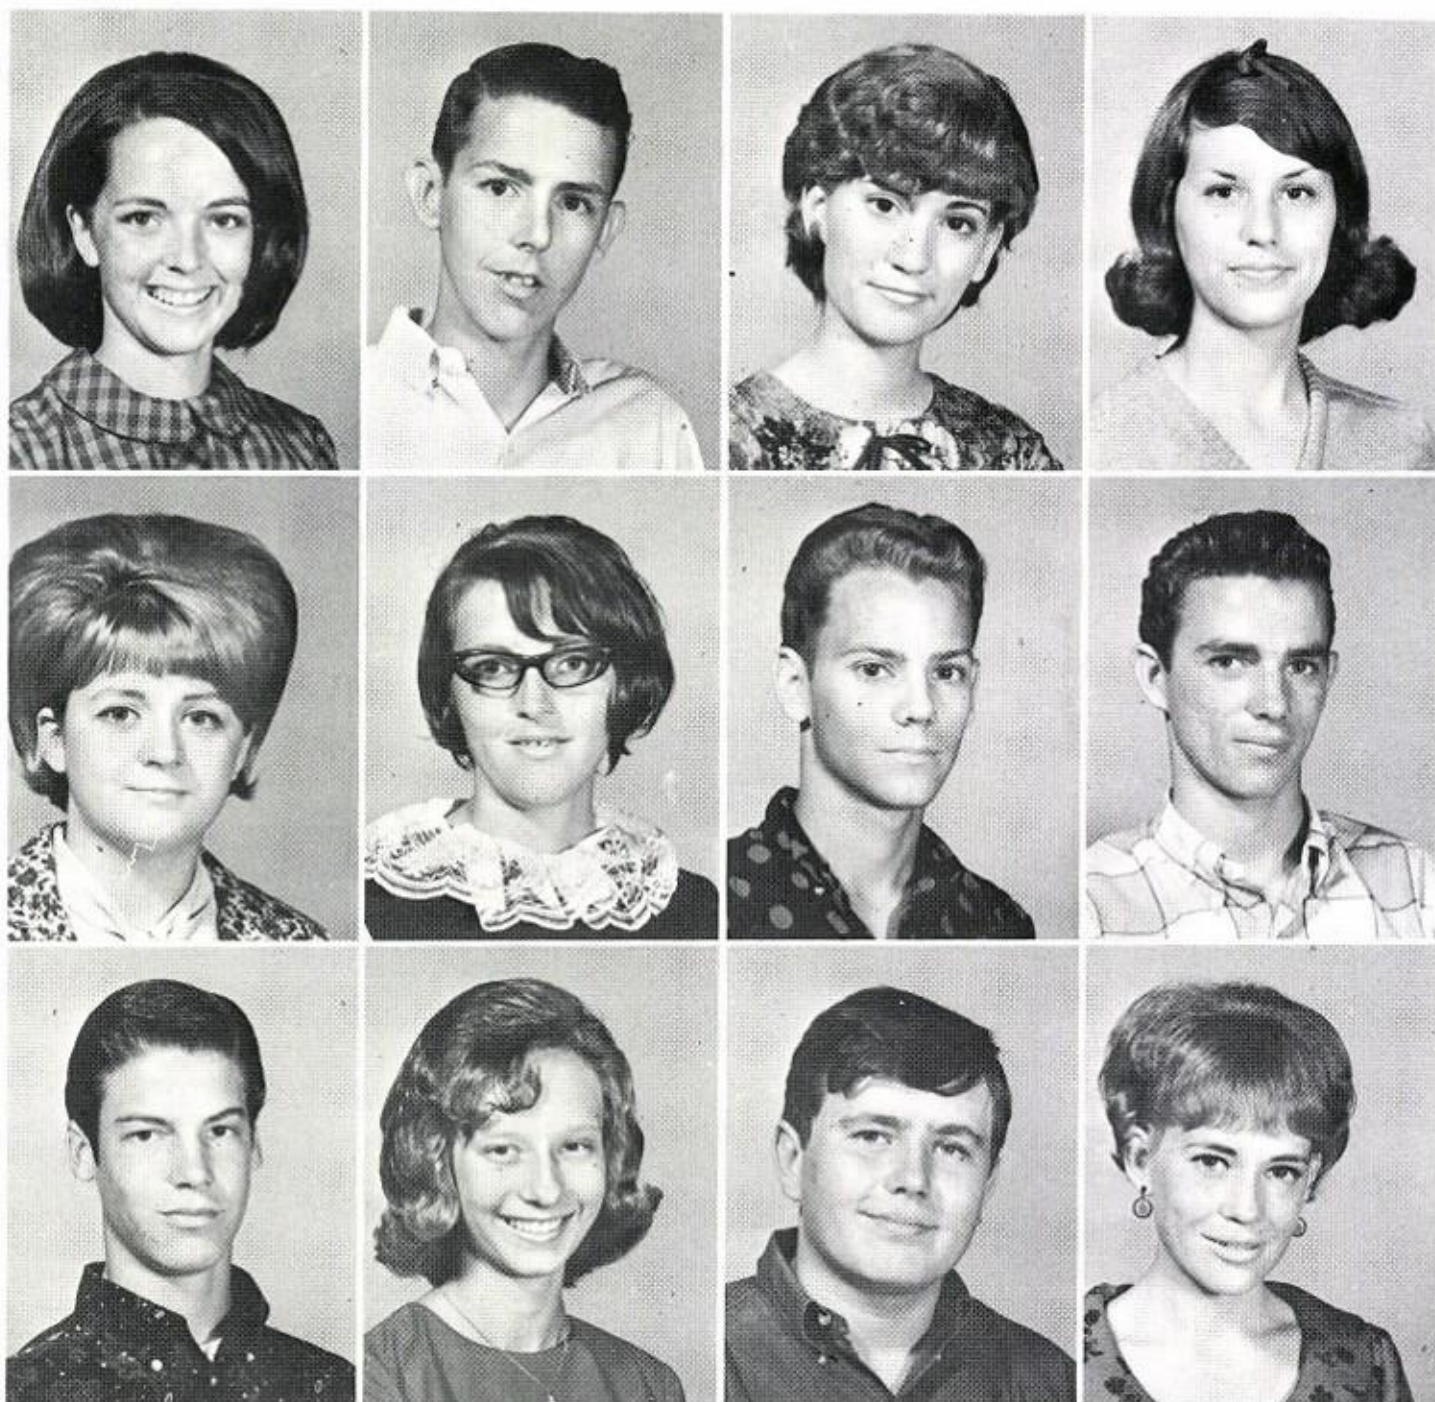

Floyd Burden directed the pep rally band every morning during "Beat Rayburn" Week.

Dummies of dead Rayburn Texans dominated the scene during the week of October 29 which ended with a victory over the boys in blue by the mighty fighting Eagles. Each day of that tension filled week was begun and ended with a pep rally. With the nights often came poster parties for making huge signs predicting Eagle victory. The rousing spirit swelled even greater when the "baldies" took their usual places at the Friday pep rally and witnessed a skit which previewed their victory—"Green Power" sprung from the Eagle nest to defeat the Long Tall Texan.

437 Enroll as Prospective Graduates '67

ANDERSON, GLORIA

ANGIE, DAVID

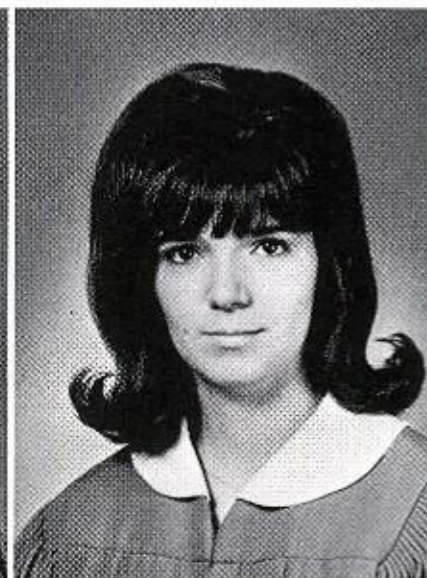

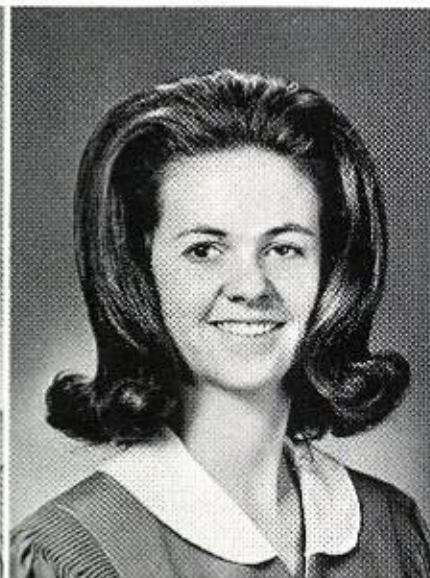

Starting the year off with cool heads due to the newly installed air conditioning, the seniors of 1967 began with determination. Five capable Senior Class officers and sponsor Mr. Derrick had a big part in making this year the best one yet. For all the seniors who worked and put forth an effort, 1966-1967 was truly a big year.

Senior counselor, Mrs. Margo Bishop, highlighted the program with a boost for seniors to begin working on their plans for the future.

August 25, 1966, was a big day for the three high schools of the Pasadena Independent School District. Drill teams, bands, cheerleaders, and the former and present football players from the high schools were present for the dedication of the new stadium. Anticipation of a big year not only in football games, but also in other stadium activities encouraged crowd enthusiasm.

Big Year Filled With Surprises

Throughout the senior year many unexpected things transpired. For some, it brought good news every way they turned. For others there were things like taking government again the second semester or discovering the lack of half a credit to graduate. No matter who one might be, the senior year held a surprise for him.

April 29th — A Night of Knights

Along with good food, good speakers were enjoyed at the banquet.

"The Night of Knights" at the Prom and Banquet turned out to be a "Night of Fun and Memories" also. The TUFF sounds of the Coastliners split the atmosphere as couples arrived at Sylvan Beach for the Senior Prom. The formal attire, appearing even more dramatic in the dimly-lit water front pavilion, greatly contrasted with the usual school appearances. The announcement of the Senior Spotlight winners highlighted the intermission. As the couples left carrying their lamps and programs, they also left with tired feet and a gay mood.

The banquet held at Nassau Bay Hotel was, likewise, as great a success. Walter Zaney Blaney, magician and comedian, also known as the Ambassador of Texas, not only bamboozled school officials White, Keller, Teague, and Bains out of their wallets, watches, and wits, but briskly whisked Mr. Teague's dress shirt from under his coat. The second entertaining speaker, Mr. Bud Hadfield, challenged everyone to never quit dreaming and to strive to be a master of those dreams.

Slow music sets dreamy mood.

THE END came sooner than could be realized. Suddenly May 25 appeared on the calendar and senior students appeared on campus in suits and attire befitting the occasion. After the second period exams, they met in the cafeteria for a special luncheon, followed afterward by an awards assembly. The many individual awards and scholarships were presented and entertainment followed, highlighted by Sammy Phillips' ear-muffs. After caps and gowns were given out, the auditorium quickly emptied in a sedate, uh—composed, actually thundering manner.

Paulla Parker's mother shows some mementoes of her family's stay in France at a club meeting in the snack bar.

Elections, poster parties, pictures, dues—all these activities filled the agenda of the newly formed club for French students. Les Jeunes Gens, The Young People, draws its membership from students currently enrolled in French I, II, or III.

A club along this line has been discussed for several years, and at mid-term enough students expressed interest to justify organization.

With the help of Mr. Clark, members put the lettering on Eagle banners.

Art Club Banners Heighten School Spirit

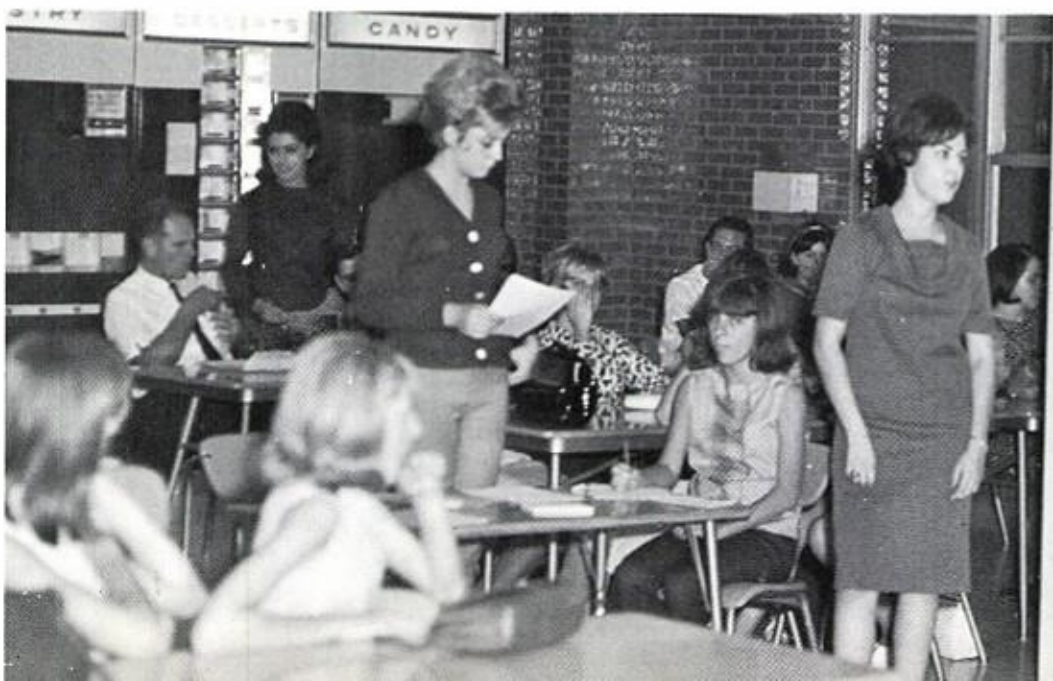

Drew Smith repaints Baldy after vandalism.

The Art Club is, naturally, one of the most creative groups on campus. Led by Mrs. Smith and Mr. Clark, the club participated in many services to the entire student body.

The huge posters popular at football pep rallies were prepared by Art Club members and, as a money-making activity, the group made and sold Eagle pennants.

In social affairs the Art Club emerged as one of the school's most active groups. Included on the slate of activities were a hayride and a party in the Snack Bar.

Mrs. Smith discusses the upcoming Christmas party at Art Club meeting.

Bobby Dann, Lewis Langner, Joe Gallegos work together overhauling one of the members' car.

Auto Mechanics Attend State Contests

Two of the most active clubs on campus are the Auto Mechanics Chapters 362 and 117. Guided by Mr. Edmonson and Mr. Rusciano, these boys, each enrolled in a regular day trade class, participate in many club and school activities.

The special interest that the Auto Mechanics students had in their school was exhibited at Christmas when each club separately supported a needy family. The highlight of the year was the annual V.I.C. State Contests and Awards at the Rice Hotel on April 15 and 16.

Aligning the front end of a car causes some discussion between Maurice Guidry, Charles Card, and Ray Allen.

Band Develops New Sound For '67

This was truly a big year for the award winning Eagle band. Perennially a big influence on campus activities, the band developed a sound this year that both pleased and gave a sense of pride to the student body.

Competing in the marching contest at Katy for the first time in several years, the music-makers collected a second.

A place in the all-state band is a very big honor for a high school musician and P.H.S. was represented by two members, Tanya Gille and Larry Landis, who survived the rigorous system of tryouts.

Always a favorite with band members is the Christmas Party which seemed to be even bigger and better. The stage band was featured at the annual Most Beautiful Pageant in December.

The band shared the half-time with the drill team for the first time this year. The most popular half-time was at the Rayburn game when the band formed the time, temperature, and score.

Band members play under the direction of Mr. Warren.

CHOIR

Spring Concert Climaxes

"Sulphur has a valence of -2 in C-Minor" by John Cole, Jr., as sung by Sammy Halbert, Sandy Wood, John Roberts, Judy Gatzke, and Johnny Burleson.

The Choir experienced one of their most successful years in recent history. In addition to receiving high ratings as a group, 42 students became eligible to compete in the State Solo and Ensemble Contest on the basis of their individual performances.

Choir members at P.H.S. received a total of 62 first division medals in competition held at C. E. King High in Sheldon on March 4. This was the highest number of awards received in this region.

The Girls' Choir received a high honor at the University Interscholastic League Contest held at Sam Rayburn High. For their excellent performance, the choir received a first division plaque. This is given for the best conceivable performance of a particular number. John Roberts, Sandy Woods, and Judy Gatzke participated in All-Regional Choir this year.

THE Pasadena

Volume 18—Number 6

Poster parties, ball games, jammed cafeterias, honors—these are all part of a high school student's life. Reporting this news is the responsibility of the Beacon, the most widely read publication on campus, other than texts.

Publishing a monthly newspaper is not an easy job and requires a responsible news sense in addition to creative writing and layouts.

The newspaper traditionally sponsors the election of Valentine Sweetheart and Princesses. A staff Christmas party was also included in the big year's activities.

In his own typically modest fashion, Pasadenian photographer Tom Pickard illustrates the cardinal rule of good yearbook photography, "Don't look posed."

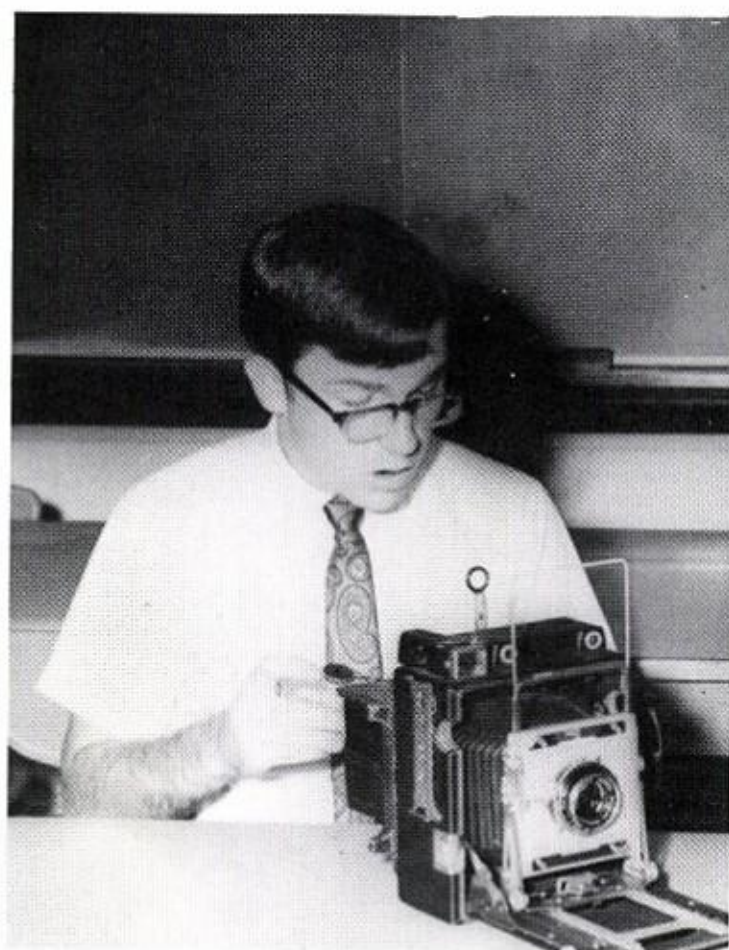

Photographers frequently complain that their own pictures never get taken; so Lynn Johnson took this candid self-portrait. Now he really complains.

Photographers' Club Really Clicks!

"Let's go to the darkroom and see what develops" is rumored to be the motto of the publications photographers. However, few students actually realize the extra time and effort required to take and process assignments. This year's photographers have exhibited outstanding restraint and judgment. Get the picture?

D.E. Entertains Employers

Striving to train students for a career in distribution and retailing is the goal of the Distributive Education Club.

Believing in competition as an incentive to improvement, the D.E. conducted a series of public speaking contests among its members. These also helped prepare the students for the state meeting held in February. The approximately 40 members took part in the annual Employee-Employer banquet.

Of course, the big year was filled with projects to finance the club's activities. Faculty members were honored at a Christmas coffee which was highlighted by the appearance of Santa Claus.

Data Processing, one of the newest vocational clubs and courses, is now in it's second year. Organized into two clubs, one for first year and one for second year students, the students are instructed in skills of computer programming and data processing.

The election for sweetheart is a big part of any club's activities and the Data Processing clubs are no exception. Chosen to represent Club #1 was Linda White while Vicki Cavanaugh was elected by Club #2.

One of the most enjoyable and interesting aspects of 1967 was the Data Date program which was begun last year by the first group of Data Processing students. For 25c, students filled out a questionnaire on their likes and dislikes. The information was then fed into computers and after several magic words and a considerable number of crossed fingers, the names of matched couples emerged.

The G.R.A. grows larger and larger each year as enthusiasm for girls sports increases. A member must have no special qualifications but to enjoy sports and be willing to participate in the after school activities. With the leadership of their able officers the G.R.A. provides P.H.S. girls with wholesome recreation.

This year the G.R.A. sponsored the annual Valentines Party which was a big success.

F.F.A. Competes in Rodeo Activities

The Future Farmers of America is a unique club on campus because, rather than be active only during the regular school year, it's members work year-round on their respective projects.

These months of hard work culminate in the judging arena at the local rodeo during October. Long hours of rabbit feeding, currying, cleaning of stalls, and worrying are brought to an end in that suspenseful moment of triumph or defeat.

In the manner of other clubs at P.H.S., the club held the sweetheart pageant and Becky Bishop, junior, was awarded the honor of representing the F.F.A. during the big year.

Each year the F.F.A. boys help to distribute the baskets of food gathered at Christmas to local needy families.

Beauty adorns the stage as finalists are picked for F.F.A. Sweetheart.

Future Homemakers Prepare

Through active participation in school, civic, and home functions the members of the Future Homemakers learn new skills and techniques which will benefit them in their role as the homemakers of tomorrow.

The F.H.A. has the responsibility of making administrative social functions held on this campus the success they always are.

Members take part in various civic activities to increase their knowledge of the social graces.

Yearly activities also included observance of F.H.A. week in April. The Pasadena chapter sent delegates to the Area III meeting at the U. of H. and to the state meeting.

Delegates chosen to attend F.T.A. convention in San Antonio.

Campus Organization

The FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA was the largest club on campus this year. It was composed of a grand total of 262 members. The F.T.A. was very important as a service club for the teachers of P.H.S.

A new project was introduced by the F.T.A. to assist the teachers in grading papers, conducting classroom sessions, doing clerical-type work, and performing other necessary tasks. Any teacher that desired a teacher's assistant was assigned a club member.

Fifteen delegates were sent to the annual State convention in San Antonio this year. The delegates were chosen on the number of points they had accumulated throughout the year.

The annual F.T.A. banquet held in the spring climaxed the successful club year.

Industrial and Technical Trades Attract

Eugene Brison, president, speaks to banquet guests, who include Mr. Carroll Teague and Mr. Almer Sheehy.

Following their motto of "Preparing Today for Leadership Tomorrow," the Industrial Cooperative Training Club helps students with interest in the trade, industrial or technical fields. Activities through the year involved a float in the rodeo parade, the annual Employer-Employee Banquet, Christmas bell-ringing for the Salvation Army, and an end of year picnic.

Golden Rain Tree Sales Increase Interact Treasury

The Interact Club, a service organization sponsored by the Rotary Club, is dedicated, as the name suggests, to interaction in the community. During the year, the club initiated a novel money-making project: club members purchased seeds for golden rain trees and are growing them for sale. Five finalists for sweetheart of the club were announced May 5 and on May 20 Susan Boyd was named 1967 Sweetheart.

Mr. Dan Proctor, past president of TWU and Director of Rotary International, addresses Interact members.

Jets Host Glassblower

An engineer from Humble is guest speaker for J.E.T.S.

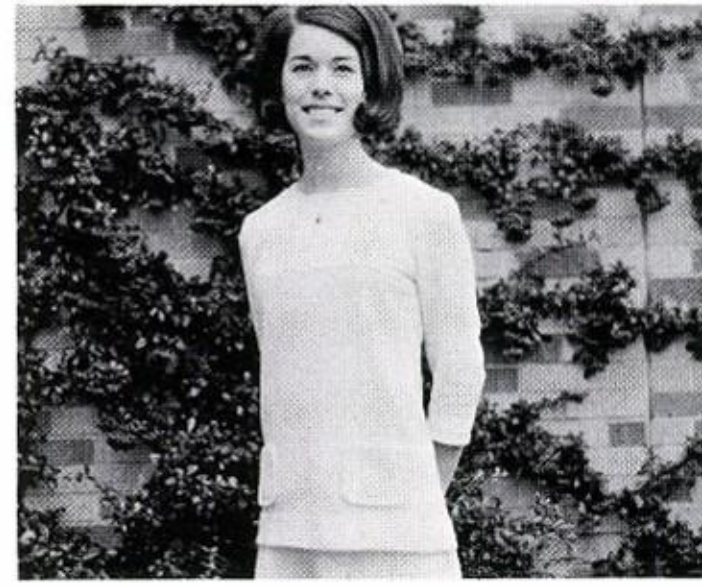

P.H.S. has a large number of students who are interested in the various fields of science, and to satisfy the interests of these students, the J.E.T.S. or Junior Engineering Technical Society, was organized. This club is part of a national organization which has chapters all over the nation.

Activities of the club ranged from the usual conventions and meetings to the unusual things such as glassblowing. Mr. Paul Rogers, glassblower from Shell Oil, was the guest of the J.E.T.S. at one of their weekly morning meetings. During the annual convention at Texas A&M, Roy Webb was awarded first place in Slide-Rule competition.

Metal Shop Takes Part in District Meet

The members of the Metal Trades Club of the V.I.C. have spent many hours learning a vital trade and used their knowledge in many services to the school. Working in a shop with the very finest equipment, activities of this organization can be viewed and appreciated by the student body.

Social activities included a dinner at the Satellite

Restaurant which featured entertainment by James Wood and Jack Johnson.

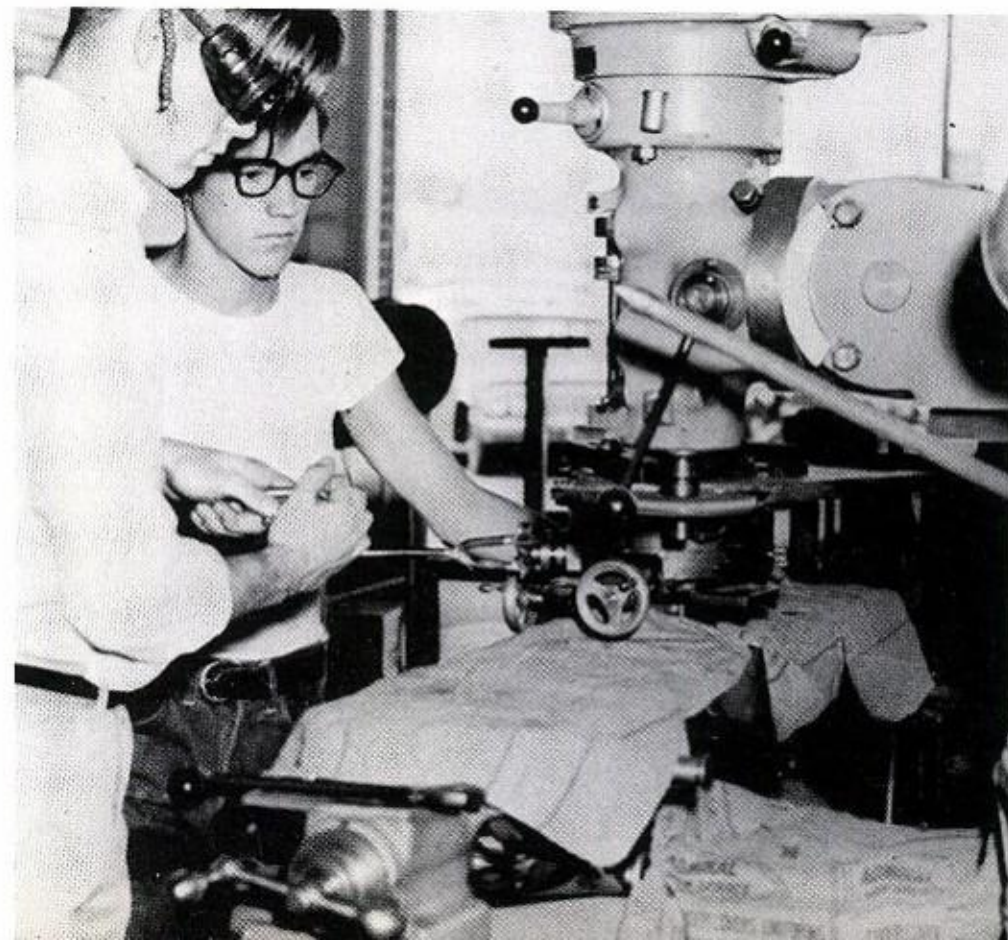

Officers of the Metal Shop and other V.I.C. clubs met at Cypress-Fairbanks High School for a day of lectures and training sessions.

Reception Honors New N.H.S. Members

The club which rates highest in number of scholastically outstanding students is the National Honor Society.

Projects including homecoming guides and the yearly banquet in February helped the club's objective of promoting scholarship, character, leadership, and service. Activities included also the traditional candlelight installation and tea.

Mrs. Morris, N.H.S. sponsor, looks on as club members discuss plans for the homecoming guides.

Donna Cain and Miss McKinley unwrap the cake for the N.H.S. reception.

Performing Arts Provides Showcase

The Performing Arts Club, since it's inception last year, has grown to be one of the largest clubs on campus. Interest and potential ability in some phase of the performing arts are the only prerequisites for membership.

Preparing assembly programs for the school is only one part of the club's activities. Public performances also constitute an area of club participation. Along with the Thespians, the Performing Arts organization helped put on the "Battle of the Bands" in November and the Senior Talent Show. The "Onions in the Stew" cast contained many members of this wide-ranging club.

Selling tickets to their plays is one of many things Performing Arts Club members, James Tedder and Jerry Isbell, do for their club.

Pasadenian Reflects Activities of

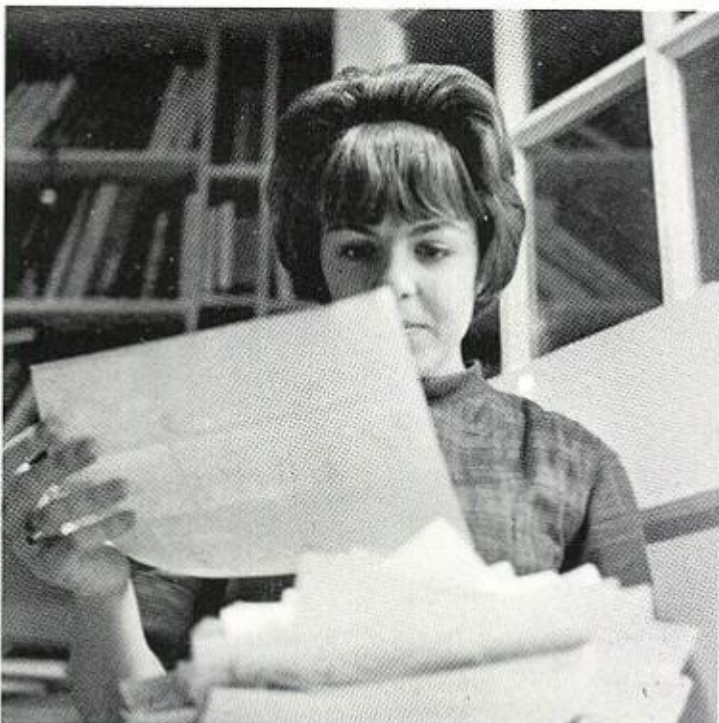

"Only 37 more class periods 'till DEADLINE!!" warned the scrawled message on the blackboard of the Pasadenian Room. Most students were blissfully unaware of the activity such a cryptic message inspired among yearbook staff members. Cries such as, "What do you MEAN I've got to get 57 sophomores on one page?" and, "Please, someone, write a headline for the language department." became commonplace as deadline day approached.

Putting out a yearbook to record memorable moments of this school year involved a vigorous subscription campaign, over-worked photographers mumbling about broken strobes, harried class editors alphabetizing endless lists of names, and too many mysterious disappearances of important negatives.

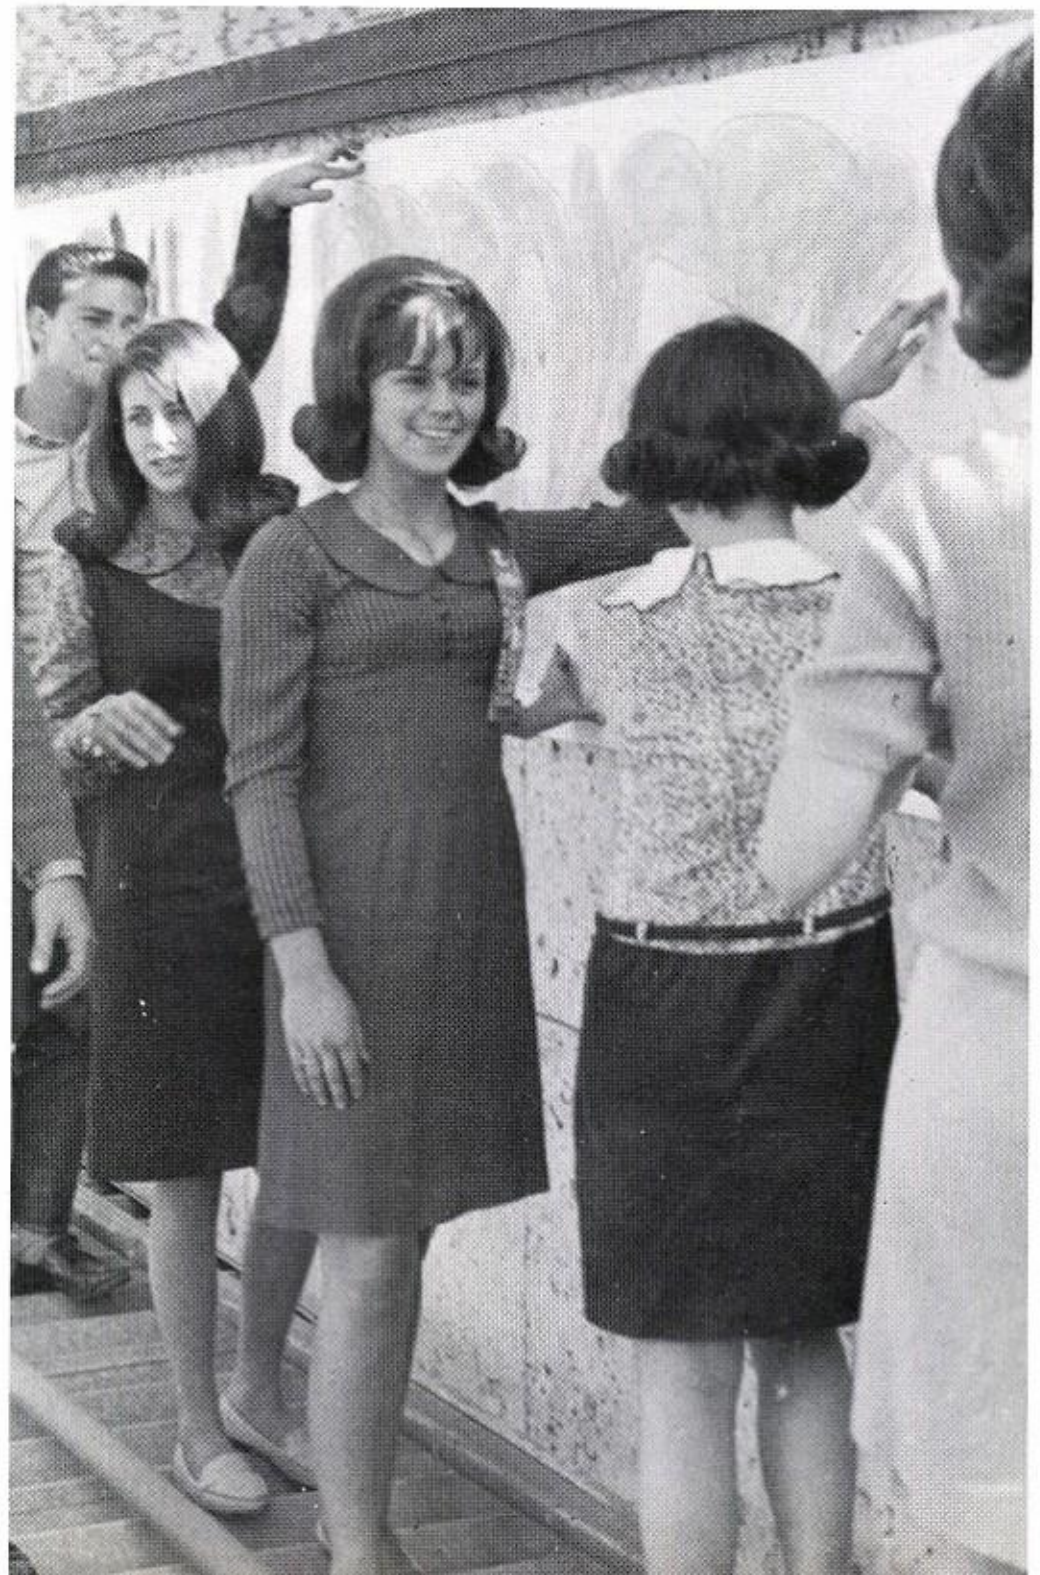

In addition to responsibilities directly involved with publishing the 1967 Pasadenian, the staff sponsored the seventh annual Most Beautiful Pageant in December, the election of class favorites and Senior Spotlight, and the Favorites Party in April.

Staff members Nancy Williamson, Sandy Ward and Judy Marlatt help put up the Pasadenian's Rayburn game poster which successfully combined at least a half mile of paper and ten different colors of chalk.

Editor Ginger Bryan concentrates on effective layouts.

Spanish Club Journeys To Saltillo

Mr. Dial plans float for the rodeo parade with club members.

A club which has been at P.H.S. for several years, but has just become a major organization is the Las Aquilas Espanolas, or Spanish Club.

The activity which had the whole campus talking this year was the trip taken this summer by students to Saltillo, Mexico. Under this program, students lived and studied at the University of Saltillo and generally got to know better our neighbor to the south. The colorful float won first place in the Pasadena Rodeo Parade.

The Student Council, directly or indirectly, plays an important role in the life of each P.H.S. student. Here delegates discuss school problems of specific homerooms.

As usual, the annual drive at Christmas for the underprivileged of Pasadena united the delegates which resulted in a happy holiday season for numerous families. Other clubs on campus assisted the Student Council in this project.

Pasadena's first Clean-up Day was held on April 29 and through the efforts of the Student Council, P.H.S. was able to win first place as the school with the most students present.

The Cooperative Office Education program, which began at P.H.S. last year, announced that the club is being organized on a state and national level and will now be known as the Office Education Association of America, or O.E.A.

All students participating in the program are automatically members of the O.E.A. Activities of this young organization included feting graduates of the program from last year at a reunion meeting November 13.

History Club Founded in 1967

A new opportunity was presented students in September when history teachers announced plans for the first History Club at P.H.S. Associated with the National Junior Historical Society, the club was composed of over eighty active members.

At the first meetings of the club, which stressed local and state history, color slides were shown. As their first social activity, a party was held at Diamond Alkali, where officers were announced. The club participated in several field trips during the year, including trips to Huntsville and the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation.

Eagles Split Openers

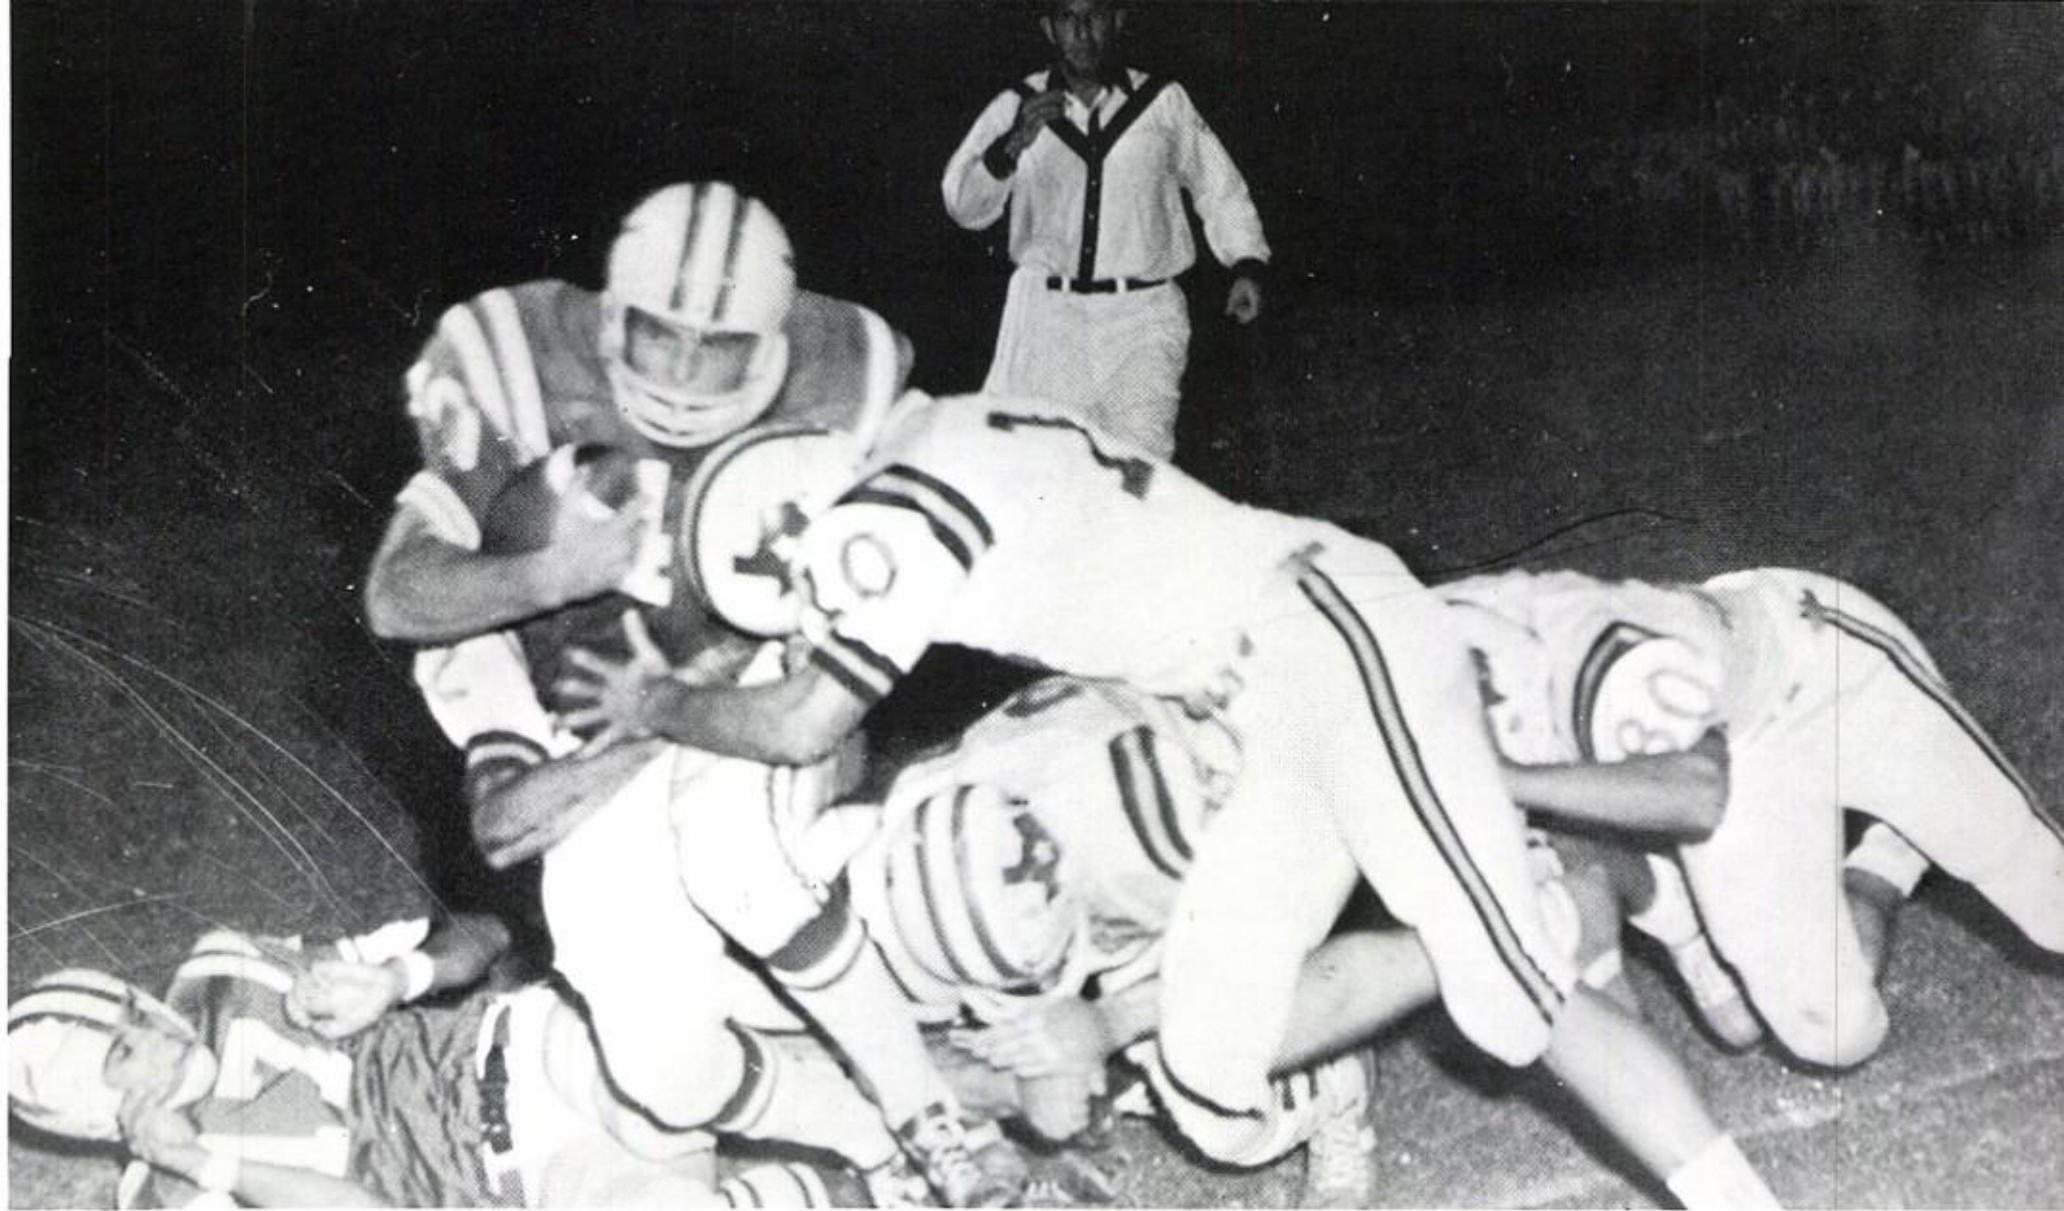

After two weeks of summer workouts and one scrimmage with Port Arthur, the 1966 Pasadena Eagles were confronted with a problem which had plagued the 1965 team—a long list of injuries. Eleven players were benched with either minor or major injuries including junior Harold Rogers, who was sidelined for the entire season, and letterman Ronny Willingham, who also saw limited action.

But all was not lost! The veteran Eagles, held together by a strong defense and numerous rolls of tape, managed to split the pre-district games with an 11-0 victory over S. F. Austin and an 18-11 defeat from cross-channel rival Galena Park.

Eagle defense proves tough against Galena Park.

Eagle Sam Sailor looks on as halfback Lanny White goes for short gain.

Eagles Struggle For "Little Southwest Conference" Title

Would you believe Pat Norville (88) made the tackle?

The District 12-4A championship proved to be as hard to obtain as all the sportswriters had predicted. The deciding game of the "Little Southwest Conference" turned out to be the conflict between Pasadena and Brazosport. That rainy homecoming night saw the Eagles hold the state ranked Exporters for three quarters to a 0-0 score. In the last quarter the Eagles seemingly stopped the last Exporter drive by recovering a fumble, but due to a call which the officials admitted stumped all rule books, Brazosport was presented with the ball and a field position for the winning score.

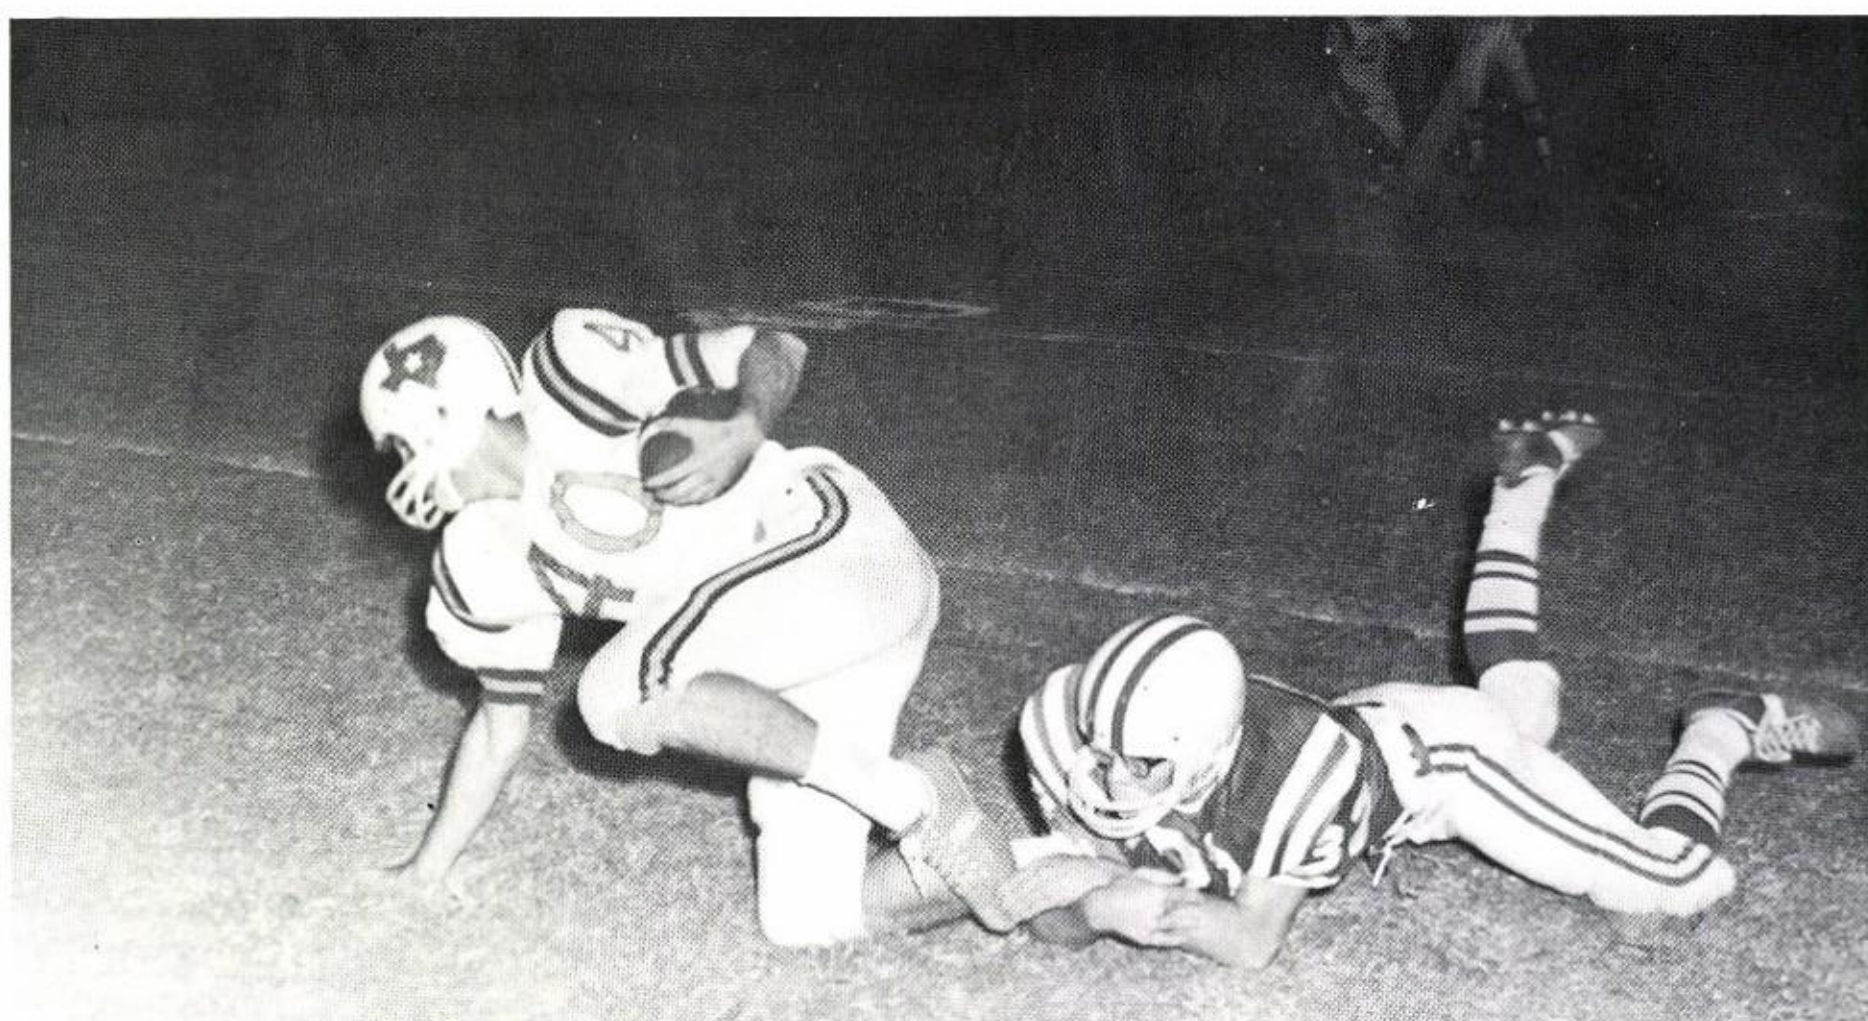

As a result, the Eagles took second place in district rankings with a 6-2 district record.

Rank As City Champs

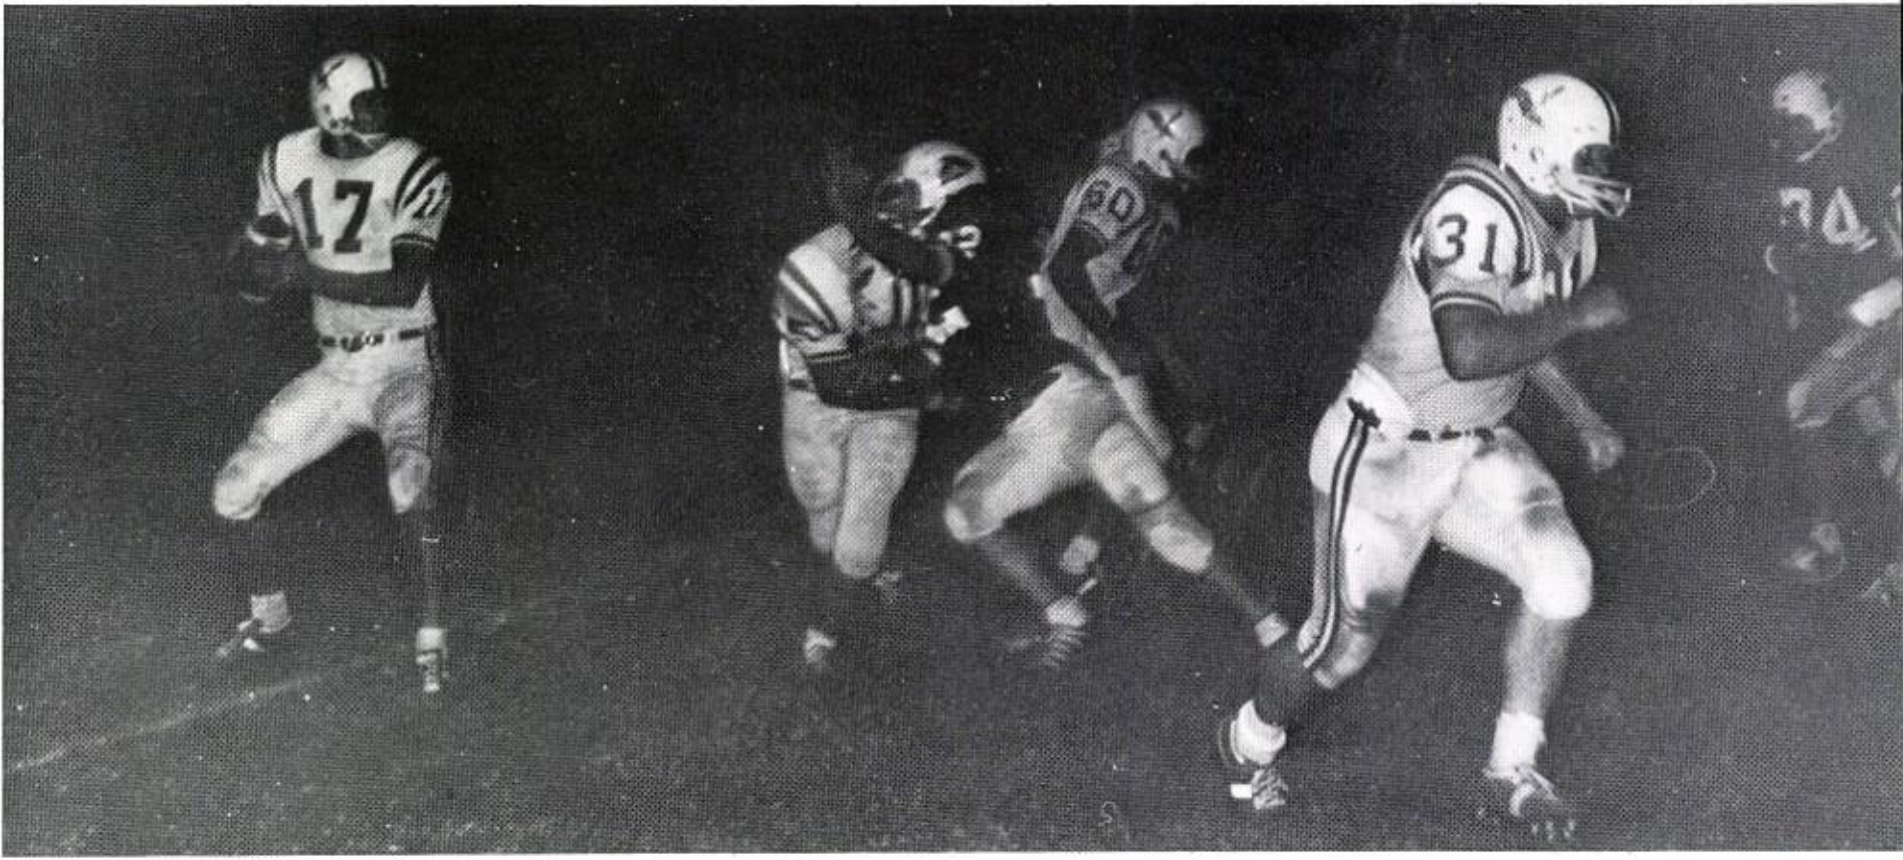

The 1966 football season saw heated ball games between the three city schools to determine the city championship. South Houston's good team and Sam Rayburn's strong desire proved tough to overcome, but the Eagles won out.

For the third year in a row Rayburn failed to top the Eagles. When the Eagles first obtained the ball, they drove it 72 yards through the middle of the Texans' defensive line for a score. After failing to make the extra point, the Eagles kicked to the bewildered Texans who fumbled the ball on their own 38. The second quarter was almost a repeat of the first, but the Eagle score was a Lanny White field goal from the 16. The Texans did manage to score in the last quarter, but the blocking of the offensive line and the tackling of the defense insured a 9-6 victory.

In the last game of the season, the Big Green victory over South Houston was even more spectacular, as the score indicates. The tremendous ability of Lanny White put 23 points on the scoreboard for the Eagles, while the determined defense held the Trojans to 3. As a result of these victories the city championship trophy remained in its familiar place in the foyer showcase.

Eagles First In City and District Honors

The 1966 12-4A All District Team chosen by area sportswriters was dominated this year by the Pasadena Eagles. Nine of the 11 Eagles chosen placed on either offense or defense while Bruce Dowdy and Larry Caudill placed both ways. The other members included guards, Dubby Burkland, Rono Richardson, and Ronald Mowery; ends, David Angie and Jimmy Hull; center, Mike Copland; linebacker, Champ Traylor; and backs, Lanny White and Tony Concialdi.

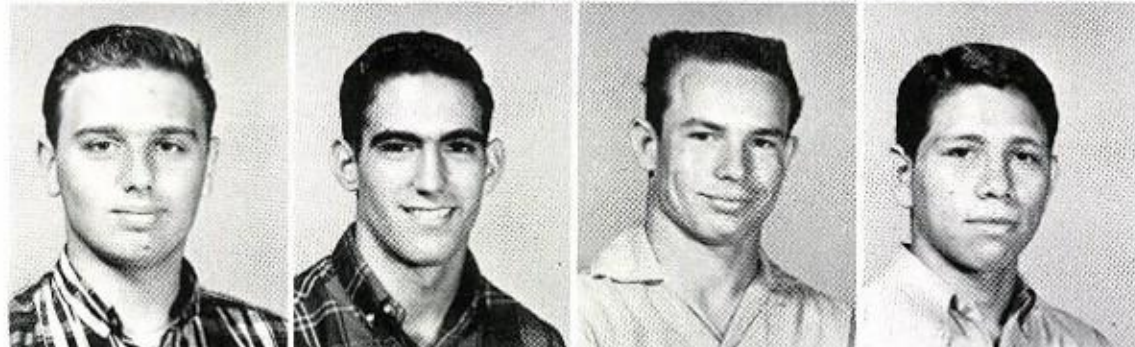

Pasadena players also comprised the majority of the All-City grid team. All 11 of the All-District team members made their respective positions. In addition to these, Pat Norville and Thomas Risinger received offensive honorable mention. Included in the defensive honorable mentions were Pasadena players Johnny Sutton and Johnny Hill. Totaled up, the Eagle list of All-City members was 15. This number exceeded both Sam Rayburn's and South Houston's.

Jimmy Hull goes high for rebound.

After a slow start, losing their first three season games, the Eagles won their next two games and made a trip to the Belton Tournament where they won a consolation trophy with Ralph Carter making All Tourney team. Back home, the Eagles entered the San Jacinto Tournament winning the first two games, but losing to Austin in the third game. During the next ten games, the Eagles won four, their big victory over Deer Park in triple overtime being the most exciting game. This left Pasadena with a ten and thirteen record, starting zone play.

Eagles Finish Second In Zone Play

Will it go in? Tompkins, Carter and Hull are waiting to see.

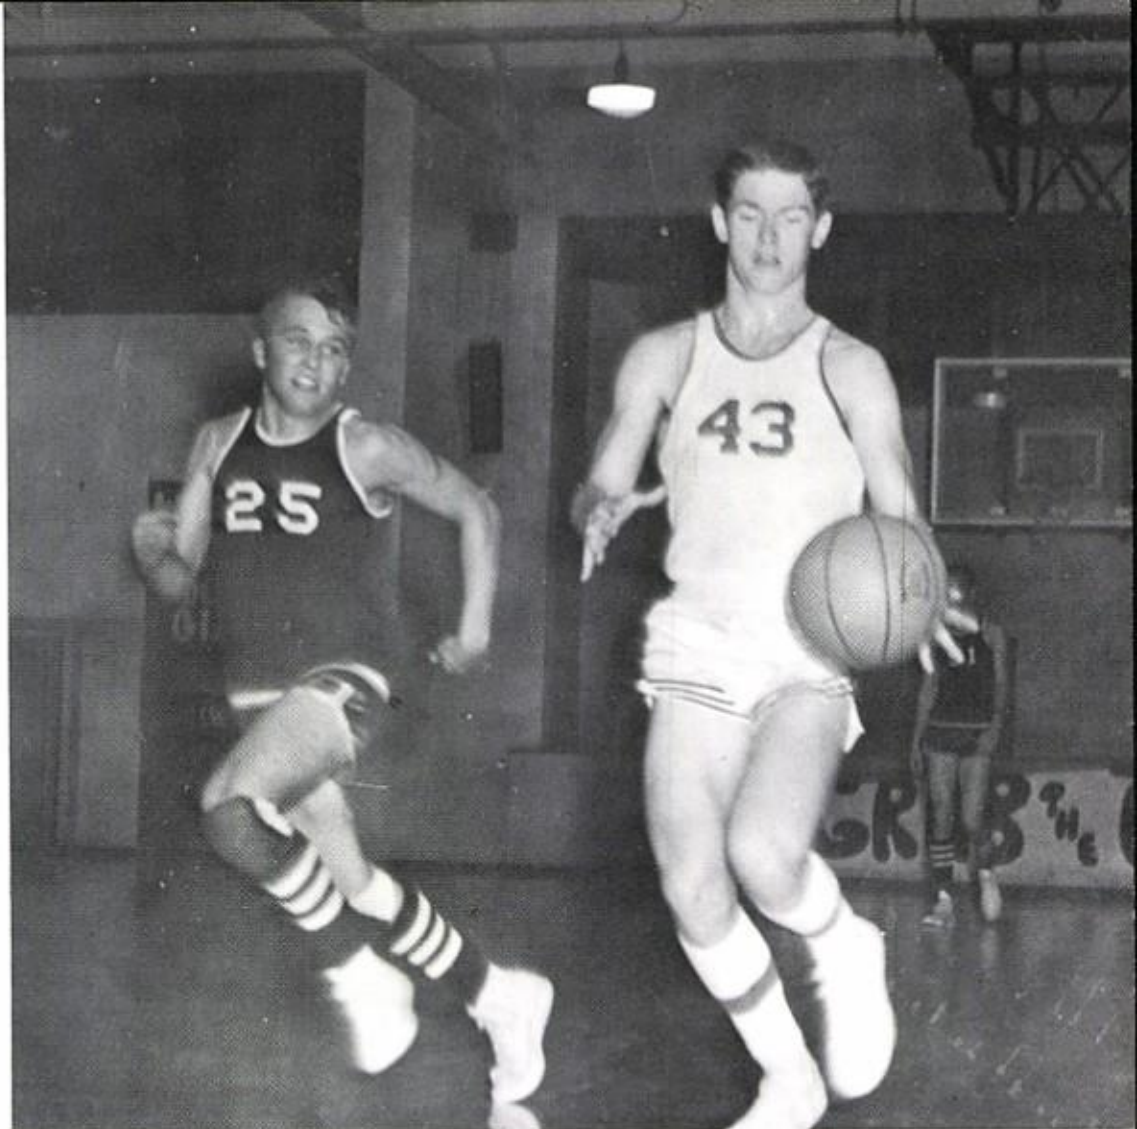

Ralph Carter arches one high for two points.

Pre-season favorites to finish high in their zone, the Eagles made the experts look right as they started district play like a firetruck looking for a fire to put out. But Baytown had other ideas as they turned on the water and doused the Eagle's feathers. The spark was still there, though, and the fire grew as the Eagles kept feeding Ducks, and Texans, and Trojans to the growing flame. Then the Texans put out the Eagle's blaze and hopes for a zone championship, as they beat the Eagles in the second round. Pasadena finished second in the zone race with a five won and two lost record.

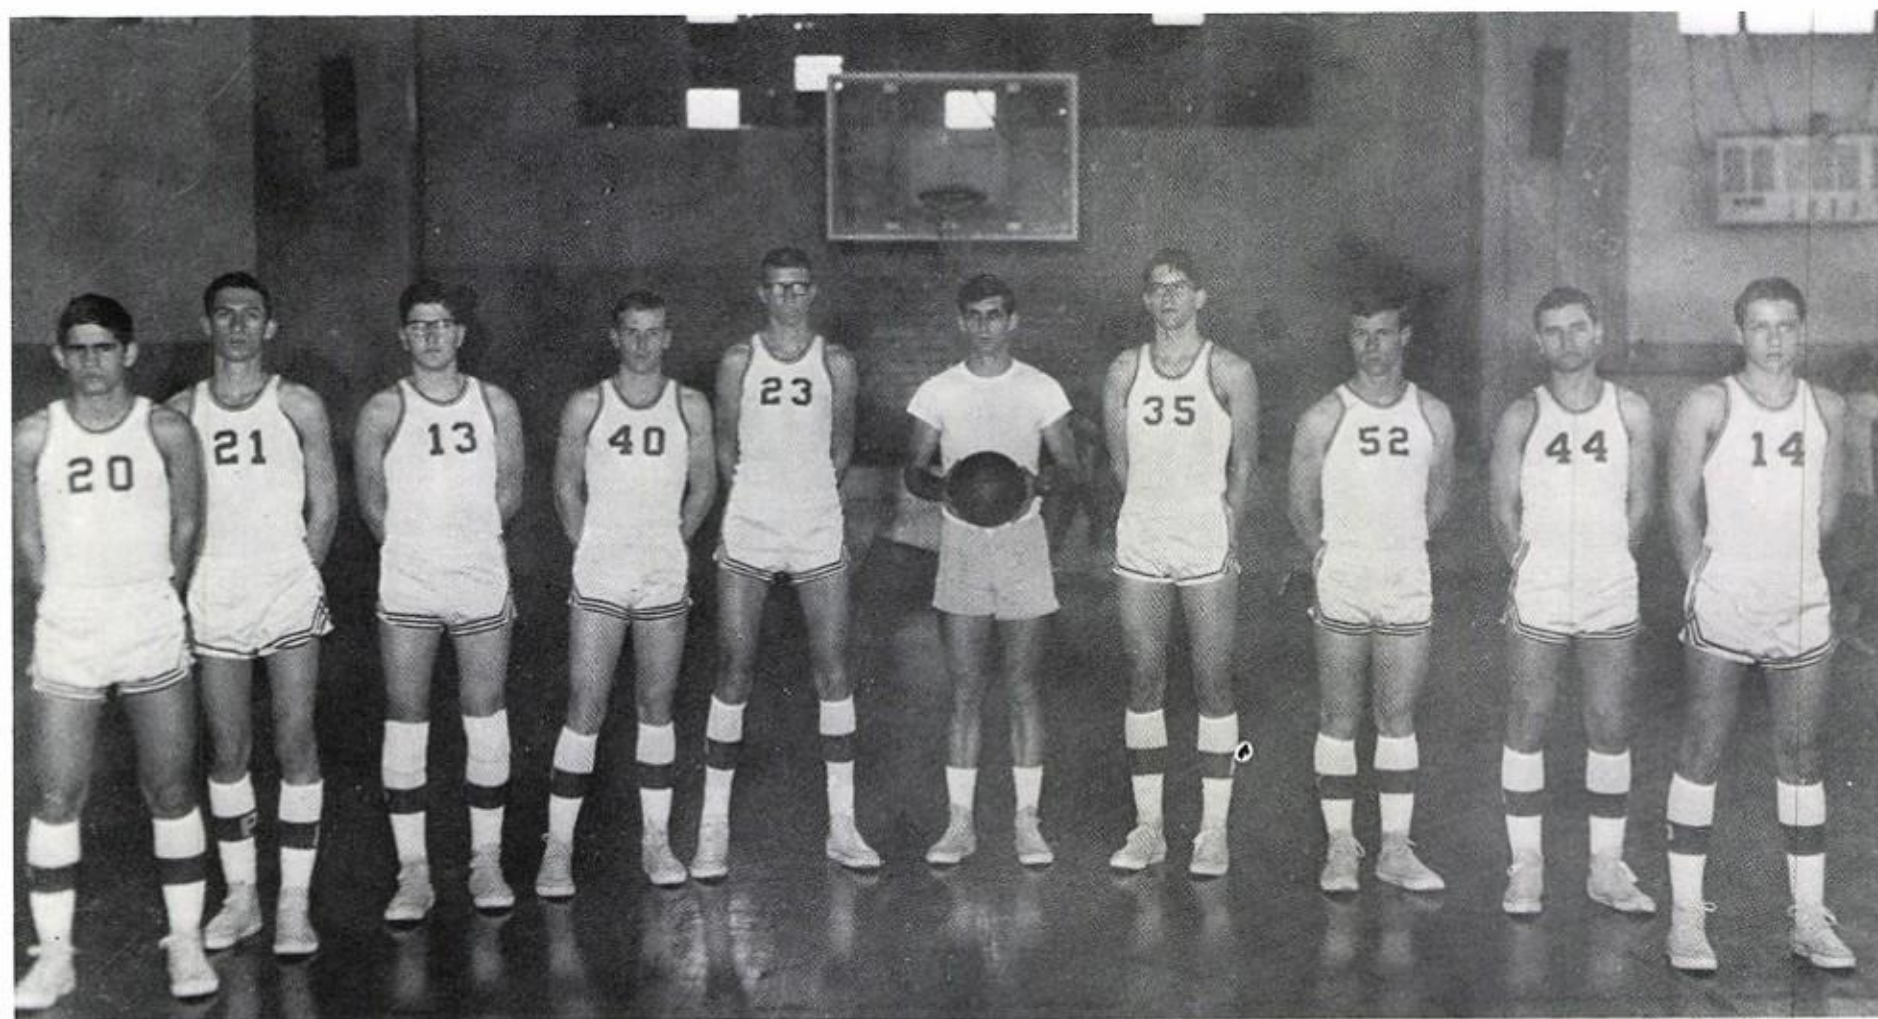

All District and All Zone Teams Chosen

Three members of the varsity basketball team received places on north zone and district teams. Ralph carter, chosen for first team All Zone, was voted first team All District by the coaches and second team All District by the sports writers. Also receiving honors were Jimmy Parker and Ronnie Willingham, who were chosen second team All Zone.

Willingham strikes again!

Four Eagles Reach Regionals

Robert E. Lee of Baytown played host for the 1967 12 4A District Track Meet which saw four Eagles advance to the Regionals.

Senior Jimmy Hull managed a new high jump record with a leap of 6 feet and 4 inches.

However, junior Pat Norville was not to be outdone by his team mate. Pat managed to accumulate a first in the 120 yard high hurdles and a record of 39.5 in the 330 yard intermediate hurdles. Other Eagle tracksters who placed second and will also advance to the Regionals are senior Larry Caudill and junior Stanley Goode.

Eagles Place Second in Zone

Jimmy Steininger is not quite fast enough.

Although the Eagles looked impressive the first half of the season, they had to settle for second place in zone, bowing out to Baytown Lee. They started district play losing their first two games. They then settled down and only lost one of their remaining six games. They finished zone play with a five won and three lost record.

In late May, four Eagles captured zone or district honors, with two gaining positions on both teams.

Shortstop Champ Traylor with a .364 batting average and outfielder Tommy Henry, a senior who batted .412, were named to both All Zone and All District teams.

All Zone credits also went to Stanley Goode, first baseman with a .308 average, and pitcher Lanny White, who had a 2-0 win-loss record.

Eagle Golfers Putted Out of District Meet

The P.H.S. golf team, coached by Jack Fink, had its ups and downs, but made an improvement on last year's record. After practicing during the first semester of school, the team was prepared for the start of the season. They practiced nearly every day at several of the golf courses in the near vicinity, such as Glennbrook, Texaco, and Brock. The team had high hopes for the district tournament after early victories over Sam Rayburn, Baytown Lee and Sterling. However, the team was not able to win the district tournament at Galveston, although they did make a good showing. They found most of their difficulties on the green, missing almost eighteen putts. The team lost four senior members, but there are hopes for a good season next year with two returning lettermen.

A Big Year for PERSONALITIES

Student Body Proclaims Ideal

The friendly laugh and bubbling personality of Frankie Pursley greatly influenced her election as Miss P.H.S. For the three years of her high school career she has served as a class secretary and after three years as a representative of the Student Council, she was elected reporter. She was also a member of the A Cappella Choir and active in F.T.A. work. Her other honors included Rotary Ann, Homecoming Queen finalist, and Miss Merry Christmas. In the all-school election, students recognized Frankie's award-winning qualities and voted her Miss P.H.S.

Larry Caudill, this year's Student Body President, was selected Mr. P.H.S. Besides leading the Student Council, he is also a member of the Interact club, N.H.S., and Sports Editor of the yearbook. He was a recipient of the Academic Excellence Award and chosen by the faculty for Rotarian. Besides being in the upper third of his class, Larry has been extremely active in sports. In his junior and senior years, Larry was chosen as Most Valuable Player and selected for the All-City and All-District football teams. In his senior year he served as one of the tri-captains of the Varsity and was rated All-American. Being one of the most outstanding players in Texas, Larry has been picked to play in the Big 33 game in Hershey, Pennsylvania, and has received a full scholarship to the University of Texas. His ability in shot-put also makes him a valuable asset to the track team. Truly, Larry is an ideal Eagle, deserving the title of Mr. P.H.S.

Barbara Brightens Spirits

"Eagles to State" and "Green Power" echoed in the halls and minds of P.H.S. students through November 6. Suddenly—everyone realized that with Homecoming a week away dates must be made, mums ordered, rooms decorated, and Welcome Exes signs exhibited. On the eventful day, alumni came back to the campus to see changes in buildings, atmosphere, and teachers. Former students registered in the foyer and met 1966 Homecoming Queen finalists Barbara Bilnoski, Frankie Pursley, and Connie Wharton. At the afternoon pep rally honoring exes, the finalists and their escorts, Donnie Wilson, Burgess Trank, and Laddie Crawford, were presented before an approving audience.

Although rain dampened the field and stadium, Eagle spirits were at their zenith. After a scoreless first half, the nervous finalists and their escorts walked out on the field to "The Shadow of Your Smile" played softly by the band. After a few anxious moments, Joe Ford of KNUZ announced Barbara Bilnoski 1966 Homecoming Queen.

Being a cheerleader for two years, Barbara's enthusiasm for the team is synonymous with her cheerleading activities.

Capacity Crowd Cheers Judges' Choice

On November 17 a panel of teachers had narrowed the field of fifty contestants to twenty-six for the 1967 Most Beautiful Pageant. On December 9 five judges, Joe Ford, disc jockey; Diane Graff, model; Sue Hughes, columnist; Sally Warner, teacher; and James Johnson, alumni; found the job difficult. They judged the twenty-six at a street clothes judging on poise. Afterwards each judge had a chance to meet each of the twenty-six contestants personally and evaluate her personality.

In the evening the Seventh Annual Most Beautiful Pageant was presented by the PASADENIAN staff with Mr. Jim Massey emceeing the formal event. Each girl appeared before the judges and a full house. The semi-finalists were being announced when Sandra Wilson was changing into her street clothes. Hearing her number, she quickly changed into her formal to complete the set of semi-finalists.

After intermission the finalists, Linda Clements, Sandy Burns, Cheryl Morris, Paulla Parker, Sandra Wilson, and Cynthia Vance were announced. Each was allowed to pick a question and gain points for the title. After the final tally, Sandra Wilson was crowned 1967 Most Beautiful.

Among the characteristics which qualified Sharon Carrigan for the DAR award were scholarship, dependability, leadership, and service.

Extracurricular Activities Rewarded

As in every other high school, many students here participate in extracurricular activities; however, few students receive just rewards for spending their extra time after the regular school day is ended. Outside the campus, various organizations recognize the outstanding participants and bestow on them awards and privileges. These students surely deserve the honors placed on them by their constant effort to make P.H.S. greater.

Sharon Priddy studied extensively last summer in the Math Seminar sponsored by the National Science Foundation at Texas A&M.

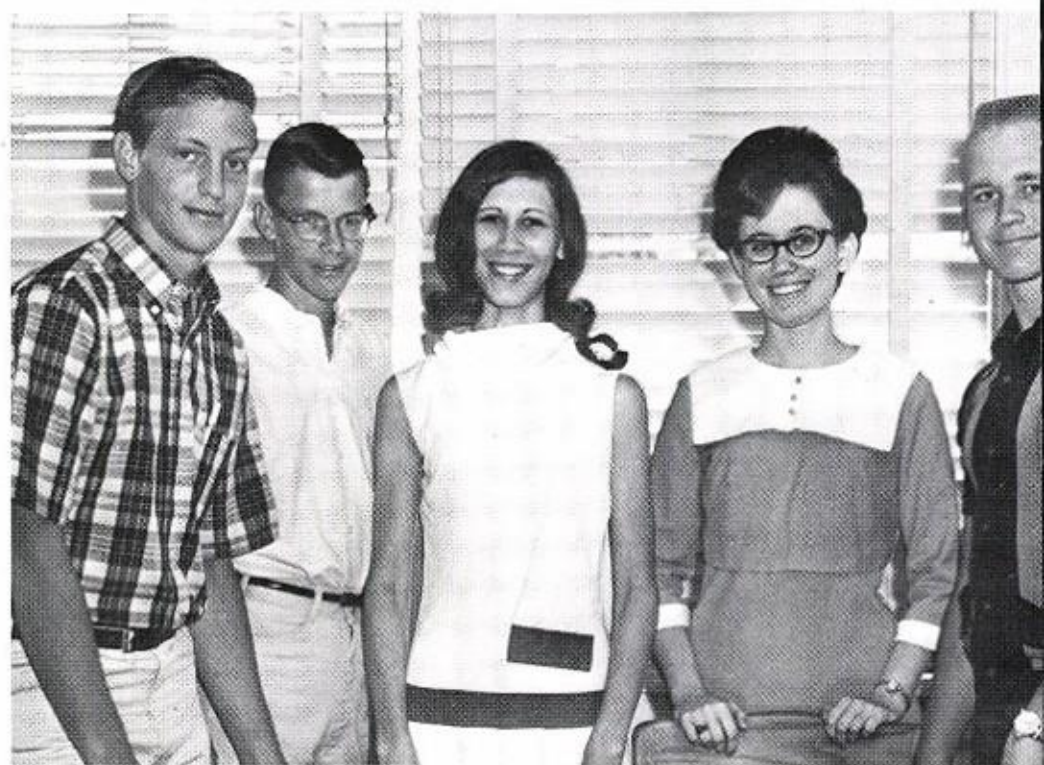

Barbara Hagerman and Eric Foster were chosen to attend 1967 Girl's and Boy's State in Austin.

Serving as City Councilman for the day were Floyd McGlothlin, Susan Epstein, Sharon Carrigan, Johnny Sutton, Burgess Trank, Gene Stack, and Sammy Phillips.

Bernd Dittrich's mastery of the German language wins him an award.

Highest ranking Sophomores were Larry Morton, Tommy Watson, Peggy Lambright, and John Elton. Highest ranking junior, Patty Wasek, stands second from the left.

Ralph Carter's basketball ability won him a scholarship to Lamar Tech.

Who's Who

To be selected as a member in this elite group known as Who's Who is one of the most outstanding awards a graduating senior can receive. A committee of teachers selects a student in the department whose excellence is apart from the group. The committee chooses the student on the basis of his eagerness to learn, willingness to co-operate, and the desire to excel more than the average student. Besides the schedule of a regular school day, these students have participated in various extracurricular activities. In this section is an All-American football player, a Valentine Queen, two Merit finalists, a reporter, a linguist, an experimenter, and an outstanding debater and speaker who stand apart from the group.

HOW THE SCALLOP SHELL EXPRESSES A COMPANY'S DEDICATION

The ancients, exploring beyond known horizons, chose the scallop to symbolize their quest. Today Shell scientists and engineers probe the unknown to bring tomorrow closer. Wherever you see the Shell sign, it represents this constant search, this pursuit of excellence, of new ideas, new products, new ways to serve you better.

Shell...dedicated to the pursuit of excellence.

Advertisers

The backing of our advertisers has made possible the 1967 Pasadenian. In return for this loyal support, we feel that the students of Pasadena should patronize these advertisers.
